

ROOSEVELT'S MEN
WANT PENROSE TO RUN THE CAMPAIGNMake a Strong Bid for the Pennsylvania's Support of T. R.

OLD GUARD IS MARKING TIME

Every Effort Is Made to Hold the Progressives in Line, but Vice Presidency May be the Best They Can Get: Will Let Them Fight Platform.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Progressive party leaders after a conference today declared their intention of using every influence at their command to induce the Republican National Convention to nominate Theodore Roosevelt for President. If they fail to make Roosevelt the Republican nominee they say they are willing to consider the qualifications of other candidates.

Numerous informal conferences between Progressive and Republican groups have already been held and others are scheduled in the effort to bring about harmony. Republican organization leaders apparently are doing nothing to offend the friends of Roosevelt in the preliminary maneuvers. They are willing, it is said, to permit the Progressives to debate the party platform and name the candidate for Vice President, but they are absolutely opposed to nominating Roosevelt for President.

They hope to select a man, it was said, that Roosevelt and his friends can support on a platform of Americanism and Preparedness.

Roosevelt supporters are making a strong effort to enlist United States Senator Penrose and the Pennsylvania delegates friendly to him in the cause of Roosevelt. Alexander P. Moore, a delegate from Pittsburgh and an ardent Roosevelt man, made a proposition to Senator Penrose today that in return for the senator's support of the Colonel that Mr. Penrose be made chairman of the national committee and run the Republican campaign. The Pennsylvania senator gave him no answer.

Delegate Moore said with Penrose's support he felt sure the nomination would go to Roosevelt. With the Colonel the Presidential candidate and Senator Penrose running the campaign, Mr. Moore said, would be the best evidence of a desire to bring about a reunion in the Republican ranks and would win the support of all factions.

Mr. Moore said he felt sure that Colonel Roosevelt would consent to such an arrangement, although he had no communication with Oyster Bay on the subject.

GOING TO CONVENTION

Fayette Will be Well Represented at Chicago Next Week.

Fayette county will be well represented at Chicago next week during the Republican National Convention and among the number will be half a dozen or more from Connellsville. T. H. Donnelly, who is alternate delegate from the 23rd district, accompanied by Mrs. Donnelly, will join Senator W. E. Crow, the regular delegate, here this evening and leave over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad.

H. M. Kephart, H. C. Hays, John P. Kephart, Edward Dugan, and George Campbell expect to leave the Pennsylvania special at Greensburg on Sunday night and go direct to Chicago.

In Chicago most of the Fayette county Republicans will be quartered at the Congress and Stratford hotels.

Others from Fayette who expect to attend are A. F. Cooper, S. Ray Sholly, E. S. Hackney, W. D. Christ and G. E. Sutton, Uniontown; George Miller, Robert Williams, W. H. Hanna and William L. Wood, Fayette City; Dr. G. W. Neff, Masonstown, and W. S. Sticker, Perryopolis.

JAMES IS FAVORED.

Bentleyman Will Likely Preside Over
Wilson Convention.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Senator James for permanent chairman and Senator Stone for chairman of the platform committee in the state virtually agreed upon by President Wilson and his political advisors.

Senator Penrose of Ohio is still under consideration for the permanent chairmanship, but it seemed almost certain today that Senator James would be chosen.

TEACHERS GO HOME.

Some of High School Faculty Have Already Left the City.

R. A. Jenkins of the high school faculty, left this morning for the White Mountains, New Hampshire, where he will spend the summer. He will stop off at Baltimore and other points while on his way home.

Miss Irene Crawford, another member of the faculty, left last evening for Detroit, her home and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Saunders left this morning for Altred, N. Y.

Army Bill Signed.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—President Wilson today signed the army reorganization bill, one of the important preparedness measures passed by Congress during the present session.

Here are the Students of the Connellsville High School Class of 1916 Who are Graduated This Week

DECISIVE VICTORY FOR GERMAN HIGH SEA FLEET
IN BIGGEST NAVAL FIGHTTentons Inflict a Terrific Blow Upon the British Squadron.

OUTNUMBERED, BOTH ASSERT

Admiral Scheer Claims He Humbled a Squadron Twice as Large as His Own; Overpowered by Superior Numbers Say Britons; Losses Heavy

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, via wireless from a staff correspondent of the Associated Press, to Saxville, N. L., June 3.—The first naval battle on a grand scale during the present war has been attended by results which, according to the information received here, are highly satisfactory to the Germans, not only in respect of the comparative losses of the two fleets, but in the fact that the Germans maintained the field after the battle. This is shown, German commentators assert, by the rescue of British survivors.

The full German high sea fleet was engaged under personal command of Vice Admiral Scheer, the energetic German commander who succeeded Admiral von Pohl. The British fleet is estimated at approximately twice as strong in guns and ships as that under Admiral Scheer.

Detailed reports have not yet been received, but the main engagement apparently occurred about 125 miles southwest of the southern extremity of Norway and 150 miles off the Danish coast. The battle was divided into two sections. The day engagement began about 9 o'clock in the afternoon and continued until darkness, or about 9 o'clock. This was followed by a series of separate engagements through the night.

The exact ranges and course of the day fight have not been ascertained. It is assumed the ranges of the day engagement were not extreme, possibly at a distance of about eight miles, as the weather was hazy.

That the German torpedo boats and destroyers were more effective than the British account to a considerable extent to the successes of the Germans against an overwhelmingly superior force. It is understood the Queen Mary and the indefatigable were both sunk in the day battle.

All the German warships except those mentioned in the official report reached Wilhelmshaven safely. Thus far nothing has been reported regarding the extent to which any of these vessels were damaged. A fuller report from Admiral Scheer is expected soon.

It is stated at the admiralty that at least 34 British capital ships were engaged and that the British torpedo boats were severely handled. The battleship Westfalen alone sank six torpedo boats during the night encounter.

German personnel and material alike stood the test brilliantly and the damage sustained by the German fleet is small in comparison with the British losses. The battleship Pommern, which was sunk, was commanded by Captain Beilken.

Berlin is decked with flags and the achievement of the German fleet has aroused the greatest enthusiasm. There was a remarkable demonstration in the Reichstag when Rear Admiral Hebbinghaus, former naval attaché to the German embassy at Washington, announced the result of the battle.

STILL HOLD NORTH SEA.

LONDON, June 3.—Captain William Hall, chief of the intelligence division of the admiralty, authorized the Associated Press to say:

"The German report of the loss of the Marlborough and Warspite is absolutely untrue. Both of these dreadnoughts are safe in harbor."

"The German report that the entire British battle fleet was engaged is equally untrue. A portion of the British fleet, much inferior to the total battle fleet of the Germans, engaged that fleet and drove it back into its harbor. The British control the North Sea."

The British public, which retired last night cast down by the first news of the North Sea battle as contained in the earlier British and German reports, took some comfort from the later British reports published in the morning papers. This report, while it did not decrease the British losses in destroyers, which were reduced from 11 to eight, shows the losses of the Germans were much greater than was first estimated.

According to this latest account of the great naval engagement, the German fleet include two battleships, one battle cruiser and six destroyers sunk; two battle cruisers damaged and three battleships hit. The naval writers also point out that the German fleet retired as soon as the main British fleet appeared on the scene, so that there is no question about the superiority of sea power remaining in British hands.

The loss of British ships is of course admittedly serious, while the loss in officers and men has cast a gloom over the whole country.

A report from The Hague as forwarded from Amsterdam to the central news says six German destroyers were sunk by the British and that a large cruiser severely damaged, was towed into the harbor at Kiel. It is estimated 150 ships engaged in the battle.

BRITISH LOSSES 5,000.

LONDON, June 3.—Careful comparison of the British and German reports of the sea fight off the Danish coast seem to indicate that Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty's cruiser squadron came in contact with the German main fleet or possibly in the first instance a portion of that force. Although aware that he was opposing a stronger force than his own, the official statement makes it appear, naval observers say that Vice Admiral Beatty courageously engaged the Germans. Later, presumably, the whole German fleet appeared, Vice Admiral Beatty was then completely outnumbered and before Admiral Jellicoe's main fleet was able to get into action the Germans made off. According to estimates made here, which in the absence of official figures, can only be conjectured, the British losses in men must be somewhere in the neighborhood of 5,000. It is similarly estimated that the German losses were at least between 2,000 and 3,000 men.

LONDON, June 3.—An Exchange Continued on Page Two.

HOWARD ROSSITER TAYLOR.

The class of 1916 of the high school is distinguished by having among its membership a student whose average for the four-year course is the highest on record. Howard Rossiter Taylor, son of Mrs. P. B. Taylor of Washington avenue, is the youth.

Howard Taylor excelled in all studies of the course, but his work in English was more than usual recognition from the teachers. He wrote the class song sung on Class Day and his commencement essay was of unusual excellence. He is also a musician of considerable talent.

SCOTSDALE AFTER SHORTER
ROUTE TO CONNELLVILLEDirect Road Through Everson From Pennsylvania Advocated by Westmoreland Organization.

The construction of a direct route from Connellsville to Scottdale is the aim of the Westmoreland County Good Roads Club, which has taken up with Fayette county officials the proposition of laying out a road from Pennsville to Scottdale similar to that provided under the Sprout law.

Scottdale, it is pointed out, is without a direct outlet to the south, and is off the beaten track of the motorists. The main thoroughfare of travel is through Mount Pleasant. It is contended that a route just as short and equally as good as the Iron Bridge road could be constructed at little cost. In approaching Scottdale from the south it is necessary to go almost to Mount Pleasant and then turn back, or else travel by way of the Morgan valley, which is a roundabout route.

A road following the West Penn street car line from Pennsville would give a direct route into Everson and Scottdale, and it is this end that is being urged by the Westmoreland good roads boosters. They have enlisted the support of many Fayette county men who recognize the need of a more direct way or reaching Scottdale by road.

Laying New Crossing.
The Pennsylvania railroad crossing at North Pittsburg street is being replaced by the company with a new one.

Weather Forecast

Fair tonight and Sunday; cooler in south portion tonight, is the noon weather forecast for Western Pennsylvania.Temperature Record
1915 1916
Maximum 86 72
Minimum 64 55
Mean 75 64The Yough river rose from 1.75 to 1.80 feet during the night.63 HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS GET DIPLOMAS AT ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

INJURY FATAL

Smithfield Woman, Hurt in Auto Accident, Succumbs.

Injuries suffered three weeks ago in an automobile accident resulted in the death of Mrs. Ida M. Trimmer yesterday afternoon at her home at Smithfield. She had been confined to her bed since the accident. In addition to her husband she is survived by one son, Arthur Trimmer of New Kensington.

Funeral Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, followed by services at the Spring Hill Church. Interment in the cemetery adjoining the church.

PLAN UNION SERVICES

Ministers to Talk Over Plans for Meetings During the Summer.

At a meeting of the Ministerial Association on Monday morning, arrangements for the union church services on Sunday evenings during July and August will be completed. The same plan as in former years, that of having all the congregations unite in outdoor services on Sunday nights, with the ministers taking turns preaching the sermons, will be followed. The place of holding the meetings has not yet been decided upon. Last summer they were conducted on a South Side lot.

The clergymen will also fix a date for the Anti-Saloon League Field Day in August. Rev. Carpenter, a representative of the league, will attend the meeting.

GETS A PRISONER

Police Say Smith Escaped From the Virginia Penitentiary.

Chief of Police Rottler is expecting a man from the Virginia penitentiary some time today who will take charge of George Smith, colored, alias "Bill the Roiler," who escaped from that place several weeks ago. Smith is charged with murder and was serving a 17 year sentence when he escaped. No word of his escape had reached the police here until Thursday afternoon, when Chief Rottler was told that the man was working at the quarry of the Caspary Stone Company a short distance above Bluestone.

Taking Patrolman Barnes with him the chief went to the quarry that afternoon and surprised Smith while he was working. He is locked in a cell at the City Hall.

JEFFERSON SCHOOL REUNION

All Teachers and Old Scholars Will Gather There Next Saturday.

A reunion of all the teachers and pupils who have attended the Jefferson school of Jefferson township since its organization will be held Saturday near Grindstone. Invitations have been sent out to all scholars and teachers.

Probably the oldest teacher who will be present at the reunion will be Joseph Miller, 79 years old, who lives in that vicinity.

B. & O. Engineer Dies.
Uriah M. Thomas, a Baltimore & Ohio engineer, 53 years old, died yesterday morning at his home in Cumberland following a brief illness of diphtheria.

A Fine Class is Graduated
From Connellsville
High School.

HONOR PUPILS ON THE PROGRAM

Splendid Addresses are Delivered by Howard Taylor, Elizabeth Kurtz and Edward Bishop; Dr. J. George Becht Gives Fine Talk to Graduates.

Sixty-three members of the Class of 1916 of the Connellsville high school were shunted into the cold and cruel world last night at the annual commencement exercises in the Colonial Theatre. For many of them the commencement meant the end of their school life and the beginning of the struggle for fame and fortune; for others, who will be fortunate or ambitious enough to secure more scholastic training, it was but a stopping place. For both the occasion was a momentous one. As the speaker of the evening declared, commencement is to be lined up along with marriage in point of importance in the lives of young folks.

The exercises were attended by a large audience, though not so large as those at a class play and the class day exercises. The graduates wore caps and gowns and each of the young women carried bouquets of red roses. Some of the boys broke the solemnity of the effect of the gray gowns by playing upon themselves a rose.

Only three members of the class participated in the program. Howard R. Taylor, high honor man in the class, delivered the valedictory address and it proved to be one that in point of literary excellence will stand up with any in the history of the school. Young Taylor departed from the general path of commencement subjects and pictured what a love for beauty might accomplish for Connellsville. His description of what might be possibly in the way of a city beautiful along the historic Youghiogheny was a dream, admittedly, but what a beautiful dream.

Miss Elizabeth Kurtz, who made the second highest average in the academic course, discussed "Our Opportunity in South America." Her essay told what American business can accomplish in the southern republics if the proper methods are adopted; but aside from the merit of her treatment of a subject that is troubling expert minds, Miss Kurtz's excellent delivery elicited much favorable comment. She was entirely composed and her small voice carried to all parts of the big theatre.

Edward Bishop, first honor student in the commercial department, discussed "Playgrounds," outlining the necessity for supervised recreation in every community. He also delivered the welcome of the class.

The commencement address was a rare treat. Dr. J. George Becht, executive secretary of the State Board of Education, gave a talk that was inspiring to all who heard it and surely of benefit to the graduates.

Kierle's orchestra played during the exercises. J. R. Davidson, president of the class, presided.

PRINCIPAL SHINS UP POLE AND GETS 1917 CLASS FLAGSmith Puts Quietus on Efforts of the Juniors to Start Rumpus.

WHO PUT CAPS ON THE TRACK?

Series of Explosions During Commencement Address Gives Audience Bad Scare; Quiet Prevails After Exercises but Crowd Hangs Around.

Principal B. B. Smith of the high school faculty eliminated the cause for another class fight, such as that which made so much excitement on Wednesday night, by climbing the pole in front of the Colonial Theatre last night and yanking down a banner bearing the numerals "1917," which had been put up during the commencement exercises by valiant members of that class.

It had been rumored that the juniors would again try to start something by hauling their banner in the faces of the graduates as they left the theatre. Principal Smith, it appears, heard the rumor and he removed the danger of another rumpus by tearing down the flag himself. Inasmuch as he is strictly neutral in the class rivalry, his action prevented the threatened outbreak; the seniors were not put to the necessity of fighting to maintain their honor and the juniors were relieved of the responsibility of starting another fight.

Scouting trouble in the air when they came out of the theatre and saw the 1917 banner, many of those who attended commencement remained in the vicinity of the theatre to see what would happen. Patrolman Aaron Coughenour also hung around. For a long time nothing happened. Then the principal appeared and without further ado tore down the banner. That was all there was to it.

The school authorities are wondering who was responsible for putting a half dozen or more caps on the trolley tracks outside of the theatre which were exploded by a car during the progress of the commencement address by Dr. J. George Becht. The series of explosions broke out on the night air with such suddenness that some persons in the audience were badly frightened and a panic was on the verge of bursting forth.

A REAL SPORT

Nine Year Old Youngster Gives Money to Little Friends.

A 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller of Peach street was proving himself a real sport yesterday afternoon when he gave every small boy that came past him a handful of money. The little fellow was seated in front of the Christian Church on South Pittsburg street with pockets filled with silver.

One youngster to whom he had given some money told Patrolman P. M. Rull. The officer asked the youngster where he lived and then took him home. His mother said he had taken a $20 bill from an upstairs room in his home. The boy had the bill changed and was giving coin to everyone. One boy had $6.55 which had been given to him by the little fellow. All the money as recovered by Patrolman Rull.

CITY SAVES CASH.

Uses Fire Team on Streets and Hires
One Horse for Cart.

The street and public safety departments are guilty of a little bit of economy just now that is saving the city several dollars a day. When the fire wagon was taken to Uniontown to be transformed into an automobile truck, a horse was hired and an old horse cart hitched up for use in case of fire.

Rental for the horse costs the city $1.50 a day, exclusive of its feed, while the regular fire horses have been given over to the street department. A double team would cost about $6 a day, consequently the deal is saving about $4.50 a day.

Inspect the Sheepskin.

A special train carrying Daniel Willard, president, C. W. Galloway, general manager of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and other officials, passed through Connellsville yesterday afternoon on an inspection trip over the Fairmont branch of the Baltimore & Ohio. The party arrived at Connellsville from Pittsburgh shortly after 2 o'clock.

Woman is Released.

Mrs. Rose Stuart, who was locked up yesterday on a charge of not being able to properly care for her family was released last evening. She refused to go to the county home and showed that she had money enough to support her family.

Parking Place Popular.

The municipal parking place for automobiles is getting popular. Two cars were there yesterday and two again today. The weeds, however, are getting so high that the cars have difficulty being seen from the sidewalk.

In Hospital for Treatment.

Anna, Falls of Leisenring No. 3, 55 years old, is at the Cottage State Hospital for treatment. Fred Waterbottom of Connellsville, was operated on for throat trouble this morning.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

At a fancy work party of charming appointments given this afternoon by Miss Margaret Jean Dwyer at her home in Race street, the engagement of Miss Edith M. Gallagher, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Gallagher of the West Side, to Edward Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hart of Greenwood was announced. An attractive color theme of pink and white prevailed and in the favors, which were pink baskets filled with pink and white candy, were concealed cards bearing the names of Miss Gallagher and her future husband. The party was given out the artistic floral decorations. Miss Gallagher is a well known member of the younger social set and for the past five years has taught in the public schools of this city. She was graduated from the Connelville high school and from the Shipley Stock State Normal. Her fiancé is one of the best known young men of the West Side. The engagement will terminate in a June wedding. About 20 guests attended the party which was one of the most enjoyable social functions held among the younger social set for some time. A well arranged luncheon was served. Out of town guests were Miss Elizabeth Reed of Pittsburgh, Miss Zella Lowe and Miss Hazel Grantham of Scottsdale, and Miss Mabel Cummings of Acme.

Children's Day exercises will be carried out tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Christian church. The following program will be rendered: organ voluntary; song by school No. 7; scripture reading; prayer; primary song; "Little Temple of Jesus"; welcome. Guinevere Buckner, Thelma Merandi and Ruth Delaney; solo, "Donald's Song"; primary song, "Little Daisy Girls"; clock drill, twelve junior boys; exercises, "Little Violets"; duet, Martha Reese and Guinevere Buckner; drill "A Crown of Roses"; twelve girls; recitation, Dorothy Porter and Helen Dumbauld; duet, Marjorie McDonald and Josephine Marlette; primary song, "Work and Play"; exercise six girls; offering, song by the school, No. 128; solo, Marjorie McDonald; song No. 132; prayer.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church was held last evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Wilbur Nelson in Wilbur's Road. The meeting was well attended and was one of the best held for some time. A delightful musical program was rendered by Miss Helen Porter, of Boston, Mass., the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Nelson. Miss J. C. McDonald, Mrs. A. A. Wetherill, Mrs. D. J. Hoover, and Mrs. Joseph Dixon, the latter of Pittsburgh, dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Margaret Barthen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stinson of Uniontown, has been engaged to marry on June 14 as the date of her marriage to Owen McGinn of Lenoirville.

The L. L. W. Class of the Trinity Lutheran Sunday school held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Dill in West Fayette street. Miss Donna Miller is teacher of the class. Dainty refreshments were served.

Members of the Outlook Club and their daughters, who are honorary members, were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon by the retiring president, Mrs. Arthur J. Freed at her home in Ninth street, Greenwood. A feature of the afternoon were several vocal solos, beautifully rendered by Miss Marion Munson and piano numbers. Dainty refreshments were served.

Misses Greenwood and Marguerite Taylor of Uniontown and their guests, Miss Margaretta Sester of Philadelphia, shared honors at a luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. E. H. Reid at her home at Scottsdale. Covers for twelve were laid.

A meeting of the Young Men's Social Club was held Thursday night at the home of Dr. L. F. McCormick in Vine street. The host read a paper on "Lentils." The July meeting will be held at the home Dr. H. J. Coll.

The consistency of the Trinity Reformed church will meet Monday evening. The Teacher Training Class will meet Wednesday evening. Thursday evening Mrs. C. E. Wagner and Mrs. C. L. Fair will entertain the Woman's Missionary society at the home of the latter in South Connelville.

Rev. G. L. C. Richardson will teach the Young Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Misses Elsie and Emily Widmer will entertain the Glad-U-Kum Club Thursday evening at their home in West Gibson avenue.

The J. B. Girls Fancy Work Club will be entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Harry Renz at her home in Eighth street, Greenwood.

The regular meeting of the Business Women's Christian Association will be held Tuesday evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church. At a recent meeting it was decided to continue the meetings throughout the month of June.

The paragonage of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Uniontown was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding this morning at 11 o'clock, when Miss Isabel Jewett Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Smith of Greenwood became the bride of Charles Edmund Alter, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Alter of Greenwood. Rev. A. N. Clayton, the pastor, officiated. The bride wore a traveling suit of navy blue poplin and a steel gray hat. The ceremony was witnessed by Miss Anna Smith and Thomas J. Smith, a sister and brother of the bride, and Mrs. M. W. Alter mother of the bridegroom. Mr. Alter and his bride are widely and favorably known young people, both having resided in the West Side for some time past. The bride was a student nurse in the Uniontown Hospital at one time. The bridegroom is a decorator at the Ripley Glass works at South Connelville. After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Alter will be at home for the present at the home of the bridegroom's parents at 229 Ninth street, Greenwood.

A meeting of the Mothers' Assistance Board of Fayette county will be held Tuesday in Uniontown.

The C. L. Girls' Club was entertained last evening by Miss Marie Jamison at her home in South Connelville. Ten guests attended. The evening was spent at fancy work followed by dainty refreshments. Miss May Mosier will entertain the club Friday evening, June 16, at her home in Baldwin avenue.

A dance will be given Monday evening at the Dawson banquet hall at Dawson under the auspices of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

PERSONAL.
Solomon Theatre today—Alice Brady in "The Woman in 47," 5 reels. Dorothy Phillips in "A Wife at Bay," 2 reels. Myrtle Gonzalez in "Grouches and Smiles," comedy. "A Toyland Robbery," juvenile drama. Monday: Rene Kelly in "All for a Girl," 5 reels.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shaner returned to their home in Charlestown, W. Va., this morning after attending the commencement exercises. Their son, James, is a member of the senior class. While here Mr. and Mrs. Shaner were guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Kerr.

A pure wool, latest style spring suit of the beautiful new fabrics, for $15 to $20! Can you beat it? Dave Galt, Tailor.—Adv.

Miss Mary Keen, a teacher in the Dunbar township high school, will leave tomorrow for her home in Baltimore.

Mrs. A. K. Murrell of Martins Ferry, O., returned here this morning after a visit with her father, James Stouffer and other relatives here.

Mrs. R. H. McNamee and children of Latrobe, are the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldstone.

Mrs. A. S. Brobst and baby went to Pittsburgh this morning to reside.

Mrs. Brobst having been located in that city for some time past.

See me and you will see better. A. L. Tucker, Oph. D., Eye Specialist.—Adv.

Mrs. Thomas Flynn of the West Side went to Pittsburgh this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jackson and Master Robert Jackson have gone to Akron, O., where they will be located the greater part of the summer.

Miss Mayne Donovan of Lenoirville, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Joseph Dixon of Pittsburgh who has been the guest of relatives here, went to Conduentia this morning.

Mrs. C. L. Barlow of Buckhannon, W. Va., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wright went to Elizabeth this morning.

Miss Ella McManus returned home yesterday from a visit in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. C. D. Roberts of Vanderbilt will go to Point Marion tomorrow to attend the commencement exercises of the public schools at that place.

Her son, Earl Roberts, is principal of the school. The exercises will begin tomorrow night with the annual baccalaureate sermon.

Robert Schell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Schell, South Side, left today for Cambridge, Pa., where he will spend several days with relatives.

Mrs. William J. Mohr and baby of Ellwood City are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Norcou, Chestnut street.

BASS FISHING SOON.
Season Opens June 16; Trout Will Go Out in July.

The open season for the real game fish, large and small mouth bass, which comes in on June 16, is being eagerly awaited by sportsmen of the county. That date will mark the opening of the camping season and many lovers of the open will go to the mountains.

Trout season has but two months yet, closing the last day of July and then the bass will have full sway until December.

WILL NAME STAFF
Congestion in Dunbar Schools Means An Added Teacher.

At a meeting of the Dunbar borough school board to be held Monday night at Director Frank McFarland's office, teachers for the ensuing term will be elected.

Owing to the congested conditions of the school another room will have to be added next year, necessitating the election of an extra teacher, making nine in all.

Moving in Farm.
W. H. Glasgow and family moved Wednesday from Scottsdale to the H. C. Frick Coke Company's Pleasant Level farm in Dunbar township, formerly occupied by the late James A. Childs. Mr. Glasgow is assistant general superintendent of the H. C. Frick Coke Company.

Will Hold Festival.
A festival and lawn fête under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held at Adelphi next Saturday evening. A baseball game will be played between the Adelphi baseball nine and some other team from the H. C. Frick coke works.

GERMANS WIN BIGGEST NAVAL BATTLE OF WAR

Continued from Page One

Telegraph dispatch says the German torpedo boat V-28 was sunk during the naval engagement. Three survivors who were taken from a raft by a Swedish steamship, reported, the dispatch says, that all the rest of the crew of 102 were lost.

According to this dispatch the survivors of the V-28 said they believed 20 German torpedo boats were destroyed and that the German losses as a whole were colossal.

LONDON, June 3.—The admiralty received a report today to the effect that Captain Prose commander of the Queen Mary and the entire personnel of that cruiser were lost.

There probably were between 800 and 950 men in the vessel.

LONDON, June 3.—The Evening News states that Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, who was in command of the battle cruiser squadron, was not harmed.

ELBING SUNK BY CREW.
YUVIDEN, NETHERLANDS, via London, June 3.—These details of the sinking of the German cruiser Elbing were learned here today from Dutch crews, German sailors and the Dutch military commander of Yuviden who spoke to three of the German officers.

The Elbing was a new and fast cruiser of about 4,000 or 5,000 tons and carried a crew of 450. The British gunners caused such destruction on the ship that Captain Malling, who was among the three officers saved, decided to have the valves opened and to allow the vessel to sink.

Before the Elbing went down the bulk of the crew was taken over by a German torpedo boat but doubts may be expressed as to whether the sailors arrived safely at Wilhelmshaven. Twenty-one men remained on board until the vessel foundered when they left in a lifeboat. Later they were picked up by a Dutch trawler.

Members of the Dutch crew said that when the Elbing sank the sea was covered with driftwood, and bodies were floating around. Some of the sailors say a German warship in a sinking condition while others noticed warships blazing.

SURVIVORS ARE LANDED.
THE HOOK, Holland, via London, June 3.—The tugboat Thames has arrived here with eight men of the crew of the German cruiser Frauenlob, which was sunk in the naval battle off Jutland. They say that the warship went to the bottom 16 minutes after she was struck. Nothing is known of the fate of the remainder of the crew of 350 men.

MORE TEACHERS QUIT
School Board Will Have to Fill Seven Vacancies for Next Year.

Two members of the high school faculty and two grade teachers have not signed contracts for next year. Paul Saunders, teacher of chemistry, has resigned to accept a position at Milton, Wisconsin, and Miss Louise Beach, domestic science teacher, will give up teaching and return to her home in Harrisburg.

Miss Hattie Henry, one of the efficient grade school teachers, has accepted a position at a higher salary at Swissvale, and Miss Ruth Baer of Dunbar, did not apply for her school.

Other teachers who had previously expressed their intention not to return this year are W. W. Harris of the high school faculty, who will study law at Van Arbour, Miss Marie Kenney at the high school and Miss Edith Gallagher, of the grades. Both of the latter will be June brides.

Lectures Close Tomorrow.
Rev. J. L. Hayes of the Pittsburgh Apostolate will close a series of lectures for non-Catholics tomorrow at St. Aloysius Church at Dunbar. In the morning at 10:30 o'clock he will lecture on "The Church and the School." His subject for tomorrow evening is "Indifferentism: the Religion of Today."

Wreck Toll Is 25.
WATERLOO, Ia., June 3.—The number of dead in the wreck of the Rock Island passenger train which went through a bridge at Packford, Ia., yesterday will reach 25, Chief Dunham of the Waterloo fire department, who is directing the search for the bodies, said today.

Leaves Hospital Today.
Joseph Tippman will return home this evening from Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

River at Low Stage.
The Young river reached its lowest stage this year last evening when the gauge showed 1.75 feet. This morning it had risen to 1.80 feet.

Extend Closed Deer Season.
The State Board of Game Commissioners has further extended the closed season for deer in Somerset county until 1918.

Stork Leaves Son.
Mr. and Mrs. John Portney of Cedar avenue are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a son.

Has the Menstrual.
Miss Katherine Cook of East Apple street, 22 years old, is ill with an attack of measles.

Try our classified advertisements.

63 HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES ARE GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Continued from Page One

dent of School Board, presented the diplomas to the graduates. Rev. G. L. C. Richardson delivered the invocation and Rev. J. L. Froudd pronounced the benediction.

The class roll is as follows:

ACADEMIC.
First Honor—Edward Kurtz
Second Honor—Elizabeth Kurtz
HONORS

Mary B. Sherrick
Oliver Morrow
Hilda Featherman
Alice Styles
Harriet Dunn

Thelma Armstrong
Florence Butler
Elsie Dunn
Edith Goodman
Joseph Loughrey
Elsie Lunt
Thomas Monice
Stanford Marshall
James Reah
Catherine Sommer
Philip Shallenberger
Helen D. Buttermore
Helen Bailey
Sara Davies
Clara Turlewick

Ripley Lounthroy
Hazel Linn
Earl Meyer
Mary E. Pyle
Catherine Strawn
Metzger Smeek
Robert Schell
Arthur Bowman
Edna Benzal
Walter Dubitt
Elwood Keary
Zea Loomis
Ruth McKee
Helen Munk
Catherine Penn
James Shiner
Frances Sisson
Josephine Zimmer man

COMMERCIAL.
First Honor—Edward Bishop.

HONORS.
Henrietta Kopf
Catherine Brindlinger
Hazel Trenberth
Berna Bryner
Marie Cox
John Graft
Florence Rottler
James Reese
Earl Shank
Caroline May

GENERAL.
Alice Herbert
Anselm Randolph
Mildred Coleman
Solomon Madigan

ALUMNI BANQUET
Dunbar Township's Old Graduates Have Fine Time.

Covers for about 60 were laid at the banquet at the Dunbar Township High School Alumni held last evening at 5 o'clock in the Cochran banquet hall at Dawson.

The alumni colors, dark blue and gold, were attractively carried out in decorating.

William Tiebuhl of the high school faculty was toastmaster and Harry Crawford, president of the alumni, welcomed the class of 1916. Responses were made by Mrs. Friel, Carl Boyd, Bryce Colbert and Leroy Barnhart, the latter president of the class of 1916.

R. K. Smith, supervising principal of the Dunbar Township schools, gave an interesting talk, "What the Alumni Can Mean to the High School."

The banquet was preceded by a business meeting and was followed by dancing. Music was furnished by Kiefer's orchestra. The favors for the ladies were white carnations and for the men red carnations.

CAN'T LOSE HAIR
Twenty Years From Today a Bald-headed Man Will Be an Unusual Sight.

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press.

He said: "If the new hair grower, Miltredina Hair Remedy, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within eight years."

"When Miltredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years from now a bald head will be a thing of the past."

Sample sets for 10c to pay postage. Mail orders filled by Miltredine Co., Boston, Mass. For sale by Connelville Drug Company, Broadway Pharmacy, Scottsdale.—Adv.

Will Show Pictures
Fine Program Is Arranged for the Frick Fraternity.

The second of a series of meetings planned by the Frick Employees' Fraternity will be held Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the Lenoirville ball. Through the courtesy of the Carnegie Steel Company motion pictures, "The House That Jack Built," under the direction of R. E. Fleisher, will be shown.

The remainder of the program is as follows: Music, selected, Fraternity Band; remarks, "Our Organization," J. E. Struble, the president; vocal solo, Philip Callaghan of Uniontown; address, "Safety," Harry L. Brown, superintendent of the Central mine; music, selected, Fraternity Band; address, "Accidents," Charles L. Albright, manager of the casualty department; musical specialty, "Our Own," Messrs. Keller and Brown. A social hour will follow.

B. & O. Surgeons to Meet.
The annual convention of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad surgeons will convene Wednesday in Philadelphia for a three days' session. Dr. R. S. McKee and Dr. J. L. Cochran, Baltimore & Ohio surgeons, will attend. Dr. and Mrs. McKee will leave tomorrow night for New York and from there will go to Philadelphia. Dr. Cochran will be accompanied by Mrs. Cochran.

Licensed to Wed.
Joel Welsh Dickey of Meyersdale and Genevieve Anna Lancaster of Mount Savage, Md.; George Earl Marker of Rockwood and Carrie Elizabeth Blitzer of Garretts, were granted marriage licenses in Cumberland yesterday.

To Address Convention.
Rev. C. C. Buckner, pastor of the Christian Church, will address a convention of the Christian churches of Somerset county at Somerset next Tuesday.

The Grim Reaper

MRS. MARY ELLA WATSON.
Mrs. Mary Ella Watson died yesterday at her home at Confluence, following a six weeks' illness. Funeral tomorrow at 1 o'clock from the house. Rev. E. B. Dwyer, pastor of the Lutheran Church, will officiate. Interment in the Addison cemetery. Deceased was 63 years old. She was born at Garrett, Md., May 8, 1848. Her maiden name was Miss Mary Ella Watson. She married James L. Watson, whose death occurred several years ago. Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Watson went to housekeeping near Addison and about 1867 they moved to near Somerset, residing there up until 13 years ago when they moved into a new home erected by Mr. Watson. Deceased was a devout member of the Lutheran Church. She is survived by two children: Frank Watson, a Baltimore & Ohio baggageman at Morgantown, and Mrs. Wesley Glover of Somerset. The deceased children are Annada Katz, who was married to Harry Sanner, and Carrie, who resided with her mother until her death about two years ago. Two grandchildren, Ralph and Lizzie Sanner, who reside at the Watson home, also survive.

EDWIN M. LOVE.
Edwin M. Love, 42 years old, died yesterday in the Allegheny General Hospital from pneumonia. His death was unexpected. The body was brought to Altoona this morning. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon with services at the Love home and interment in Mount Lebanon cemetery. Mr. Love is survived by his mother, Mrs. Emma Love, and two sisters, Miss Malina Love at home and Mrs. G. C. Knodler of Philsburg.

WALTER B. JOHNSON.
The body of Walter B. Johnson arrived here yesterday afternoon from Somerset and was removed by Funeral Director J. E. Sims to the family residence, 335 East Peach street, from which place the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. C. Buckner, pastor of the Christian Church, will officiate. Interment in Hill Grove cemetery.

MISS MARY HORDA.
The funeral of Miss Mary Horda will take place tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Horda residence in Gibson avenue. Interment in the Greek cemetery.

GOING TO SLIGO
Carnival Company Decides to Take no Chances on Lowsuit.

Rather than take chances in a lawsuit the management of the Doris carnival has decided to show on the Sligo Field instead of Fayette Field. A bridge is being built across Mount creek to take care of the crowds.

When the management learned there would only be trouble with the School Board it decided not to bother with the Fayette Field proposition.

TEACHERS ELECTED.
Dawson School Board Will Name Principal Later.

The Dawson school board met last night in A. Van Horn's office and elected grade teachers for the following year. The election of a principal will take place at a later meeting.

Teachers elected were as follows: Room No. 1, Miss Alpha Frensch; room No. 2, Miss Susan Hleka of Connelville, and room No. 3, Miss Anna Rowan. Miss Hleka is a new member of the teaching corps.

Get a Flag
At this office for Coupon and 98c. Size 5x5 feet.

LADIES
When irregular or delayed use of Triumphant Pills. Safe and always dependable. Not sold at drug stores. Do not experiment with others; save disappointment. Write for "Retailer" and get them free. Address NATIONAL MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Milwaukee, Wis.

MEN AND WOMEN AGENTS
MAKE $5 A DAY

I have a splendid proposition to make to agents or canvassers who are willing to earn $5.00 a day and over. I pay 500 per cent profit on an article that looks to be worth $2.00 and is worth $2.00, but you can sell it for 50 cents in every other home you call on. This article never before offered by canvassers and I will give exclusive territory to first applicants. Address Post Office Drawer 76, Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Its Training that Counts
The Diploma of The Indiana Normal means that the graduate has been through a course of practical training which equips one to fill the best positions in the teaching world.

Indiana Graduates are so successful because they are ambitious and because they are trained to win success.

Pennsylvania State Normal School
of Indiana, Pa.
Practical Thorough Efficient

The location of Indiana Normal is healthful. The buildings are modern—electric light, elevators, etc.—and every element of comfort, health and education is provided. $200 covers all expenses for one year—excepting books—for these preparing to teach. Others pay $250.

The Indiana Conservatory of Music and the Indiana School of Business, two of the best equipped schools in America, are connected with Indiana Normal.

For new catalog—illustrated—address the Principal, Dr. James E. Ament, Indiana, Pa.

42nd Year
Opens September 12th, 1916.

Service That Serves
In 37 insurance menus twenty years service in satisfied customers in the adjustment of losses. Insure with

J. Donald Porter
First National Bank Building, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Chas. C. Mitchell
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

110 South Pittsburgh Street. Both Phones.
I employ no agents or solicitors. Am doing business strictly on my own merits. 18 years practical experience.

WEAR Horner's Clothing
NIGHT CALLS ANSWERED AT OFFICE.

THE E. DUNN STORE

The HOME of QUALITY and SERVICE
129 to 133 N. PITTSBURG ST. CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Rug Size Carpet Remnants $1.25

Carpet Remnants cut to 27x45 rug size, in many patterns, at $1.25
Stair Threads at 16c and 20c
Coco Door Mats, at 75c and $1.25
Rubber Door Mats, at $1.50

Rugs Bought Before the Advance in Price

Size 27x54 in., at $1.25 to $4.50
Size 30x60 in., at $2.00 to $4.00
Size 36x72 in., at $3.50 to $8.00
Size 54x90 in., at $3.50
Size 6x9 ft., at $5.50
Size 9x12 ft., at $7.75 to $86.00

Vudor Shades

4 feet wide, regular $2.25, at $1.55
8 feet wide, regular $4.25, at $3.65
10 feet wide, regular $5.50, at $5.25

Wool Fibre Rugs $7.75

A satisfactory and serviceable rug for bed-room, sun porch or cottage; absolutely fast colors, at $7.75 and $10.00.

Rag Rugs 75c

A special grade rag-rug, usually sold at $1.00, in assorted colors, special at 75c

Felt Rugs $2.25

Pretty assorted colors, suitable for porch swings, den or odd corners, size 27x54, at $2.25

MICHELIN-FOUNDED-1832

MICHELIN

12 to 15% Extra Weight

When you buy your next tire use this simple test. Let us weigh a Michelin Universal Tire in comparison with any other non-skid of the same size.

You will find the Michelin 12 to 15% heavier than the average, the exact percentage depending on the size of the tires used in the test.

This extra weight represents extra rubber and fabric, which means extra service.

Wells-Mills Company
South Pittsburgh Street

ONE QUALITY ONLY—THE BEST

Its Training that Counts

The Diploma of The Indiana Normal means that the graduate has been through a course of practical training which equips one to fill the best positions in the teaching world.

Indiana Graduates are so successful because they are ambitious and because they are trained to win success.

Pennsylvania State Normal School
of Indiana, Pa.
Practical Thorough Efficient

The location of Indiana Normal is healthful. The buildings are modern—electric light, elevators, etc.—and every element of comfort, health and education is provided. $200 covers all expenses for one year—excepting books—for these preparing to teach. Others pay $250.

The Indiana Conservatory of Music and the Indiana School of Business, two of the best equipped schools in America, are connected with Indiana Normal.

For new catalog—illustrated—address the Principal, Dr. James E. Ament, Indiana, Pa.

42nd Year
Opens September 12th, 1916.

Service That Serves

In 37 insurance menus twenty years service in satisfied customers in the adjustment of losses. Insure with

J. Donald Porter
First National Bank Building, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Chas. C. Mitchell
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

110 South Pittsburgh Street. Both Phones.
I employ no agents or solicitors. Am doing business strictly on my own merits. 18 years practical experience.

WEAR Horner's Clothing
NIGHT CALLS ANSWERED AT OFFICE.

J. B. KURTZ,
NOTARY PUBLIC
AND REAL ESTATE.
No. 2 South Meadow Lane, Connelville, Pa.

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN
Church, J. L. Proudfoot, pastor. Sabbath school at 9:15. Morning service at 11; subject, "Christ and the People." Evening service at 7:30; subject, "Christ's Word." Christian Endeavor at 6:30. Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:45.

THE COVENANTER CHURCH.
West Side. Services by the pastor, Rev. S. B. Houston, in the morning at 10:30. Subject, "Christian Love." Sabbath school at 1:30 P. M. Young People's Covenanters Union at 4:15 P. M. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7:30.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH. C. C. Buckner, minister. Bible school at 9:30. Morning worship at 10:45. Christian Endeavor at 6:30. Children's Day service at 7:30.

THE METHODIST PROTESTANT
Church, West Apple street, John H. Lamberton, minister. Class meeting at 9 A. M. Sabbath school at 9:15 A. M. Morning worship at 11 A. M. Communion, baptism and reception of members. Christian Endeavor at 6:45 P. M. Subject, "The Consolation of Sorrow." Leader, Miss Gertrude Sembover. At the evening service at 7:45 the pastor's theme will be "Lifting Up Jesus." Special music by chorus choir at both services. Third quarterly conference Monday evening at 7:15. Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening, P. O. M. Class will be in charge.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.
South Pittsburgh street, Wilbur Nelson, pastor. Sunday school at 9:15 A. M. Public worship at 11 A. M. Sermon by the pastor. The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will follow the sermon and the hand of fellowship will be given to new members. Young People's meeting at 6:15 P. M. Endeavor at 7:30.

STEEL MARKET HAS ENTERED A SEASON OF DULLNESS

Decrease in Speculations But Shipments are Still Large; Prices Become Stationary.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
NEW YORK, May 31.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

The dullness in the steel market has been accentuated further in the past week. While occasional new orders are dropping out the total volume of new business is small as compared with the shipments and it is the consensus of opinion that the steel market will be dull for months with respect to new buying.

There has been some decrease in the rate of specifying against old contracts, but on the whole the volume of unfilled specifications is increasing. Shipments continue extremely heavy and here and there departments are making new records. While labor is scarce production has not been materially affected by the condition, but new construction work is proceeding behind schedules in many instances.

Steel prices are practically stationary. The advancing tendency having largely disappeared when the market grew quiet. The next move in order would be a decline but no expectations are entertained that anything of that sort will occur for several months if indeed this year. As the time arrives when higher priced contracts will be in force the mills will have an added incentive to maintain prices, in order to encourage specifying on the contracts. The common opinion is that even if the market stays as dull as at present the mills will be called upon to operate at capacity late in the year, and in that case there will be no particular pressure upon prices this year.

The unfinished steel market has been finding itself with fairly numerous sales of billets for early shipment, generally at $10 to $12. For a long time there were no quotations below $15, but the market was practically nominal then. What has occurred is a loss in supplies rather than a definite market decline. For deliveries over a period of months the mills are still disposed to quote $15.

The strike in the Pittsburgh coal district has assumed serious proportions, about 75% of the union miners being out, with a practical certainty that the others will come out. Coke is stronger in consequence.

HOLD CONVENTION

Colored Missionary Societies Gather at Jacobs Creek.

A missionary convention was held at Jacobs Creek Baptist Church by the colored missionary societies of different churches.

Field President Mrs. C. Webster of Uniontown, Vice President Mrs. L. B. Thompson of Jacobs Creek, Secretary Miss Inez Walker of Conneltsville, and Assistant Secretary Mrs. L. Christian of Van Meter had charge. Mrs. R. Danner received all the visitors. A good dinner was served by the Misses Frances and Mary Mootman of Uniontown. The house was decorated with the prettiest flowers of the season and excellent music was furnished.

Out-of-town visitors were: Rev. P. H. Thompson of Uniontown; Rev. R. D. Epps, Rev. A. J. Payne and Rev. C. J. Wells of Conneltsville; Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Smith of Vanderbilt; Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Thompson of Jacobs Creek; Mrs. Evans of Dunbar; Mrs. Green of West Newton; Mrs. Blackwell of Grays Landing; Mrs. Doydale of Smithfield; Miss G. Walton of New Salem; and many others.

Miss Florence Rowe gave a few selections in whistling which were very much enjoyed. There was a fine sermon and good singing in the evening. Many white people were in attendance.

DICKERSON RUN.

DICKERSON RUN, June 2.—Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Noble and children of Dawson are spending a few days visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Baldwin at Broad Ford.

B. O. Lint of Somerset, spent yesterday here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Lint.

Mrs. Percy Edwards of Dawson, has returned home after a very pleasant visit with Pittsburgh friends.

Mrs. Jane Hardy of Scottville, and Mrs. James Beatty, Sr. of Vanderbilt, were the guests of Mrs. Beatty, Jr., Thursday.

James Shaffer, night pumper at the filtering plant of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad at this place was painfully but not seriously hurt Wednesday night, while sweeping out the engine room he slipped and fell from the platform a distance of fifteen feet alighting down among the engines and pumps. He was taken at once to the office of Dr. Harry J. Bell at Dawson, who dressed his wounds. Several stitches were required to fix him up.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Young and children are spending a few days visiting relatives and friends at Wapum.

Mrs. E. H. Hubbard and Mrs. H. L. Hyatt were shopping in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Richard Fieldson is spending a few days with Pittsburgh friends.

Miss Grace Grimm of Pittsburgh, has returned to her home after a very pleasant visit here with relatives and friends.

E. J. Beatty received his new Dodge Tuesday and last evening was making things hum and the dust fly along the State Road between Vanderbilt and Conneltsville.

Stops Enlargement.
The Midvale Steel Company has suspended work on the extension of its Edgemoor plant at Philadelphia. It already has 12,000 men at work there making rifles under the Remington patents, and was planning to double this capacity.

Try Our Classified Ads.
One cent a word. They bring results.

HANDS PIMPLY AND VERY SORE

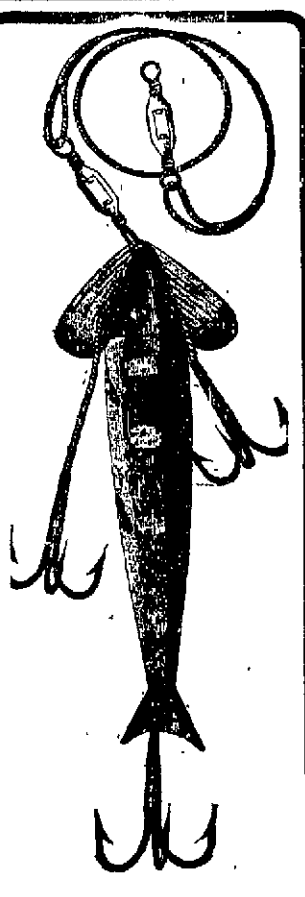

Red and Rough. Could Not Put Them in Water. Could not Sleep. Always Aching and Very Ugly.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My hands would break open and bleed! This being caused by the wind, and they would become pimply and very sore. They were red and very rough and I could not bear to put my hands in water. They would become a little better and then they would become worse. My hands were always aching and I could not go near the heat and I could not sleep. They were very ugly and often I would not go to school because of my hands."

"After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment my hands began to heal. Now I don't know what it is to have a cracked hand." (Signed) Miss Cora Hill, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 78, Curry, Pa., July 2, 1915.

Sample Each Free by Mail
With 32-p. Skin Book on request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.

Fishing Tackle.

Not a Toy, But a Real Bicycle for $8.75

SPECIFICATIONS.
HEIGHT—Bicycle to ground, highest adjustments, 27 inches.
HEIGHT OF FRAME—34 inches.
WHEEL BASE—41 inches.
FRAME—Kinch tubing, forks, unbreakable oval steel.
WHEELS—27 inch, 1 1/2 inch diameter, 20 spokes. Ball bearing.
TIRES—1/2 inch cushion rubber.
PENNIS—Frame, bright red enamel, wheels, black enamel; other parts nickel-plated. Including handle-bars, seat-post, seat (hollowing), apronets and crank.
SADDLE—Leather top, full spring, cushion comfort type and adjustable.
CHAIN—Regular bicycle type 3-16 by 1 inch tempered steel.
HANDLE-BARS—1/2 inch bar, nickel-plated, regular motorcycle type.
PENNIS—Frame, bright red enamel, wheels, black enamel; other parts nickel-plated. Including handle-bars, seat-post, seat (hollowing), apronets and crank.

Connellsville Machine & Car Supply Co.
309-311 Water Street.
GRANT MEYERS, Manager.

Patronize Those Who Advertise.

ION-O-LEX

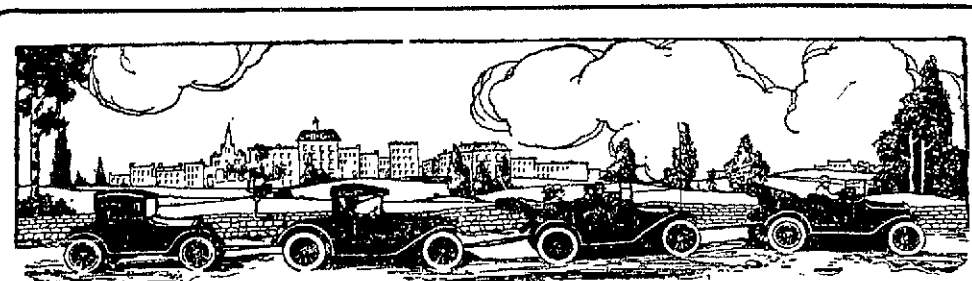

Stop Neuritis Pains

Ion-o-lex stops Neuritis by removing the cause. Neuritis is a disease of the nerves. There is a lack of nerve energy—the delicate nerve sheaths are damaged. Ion-o-lex penetrates the tissues—re-innervates the nerve sheaths and stops the pain.

It is all mechanical—Ion-o-lex is not a drug—contains no narcotics, opiates or counter-irritants. It simply stops the pain. Ion-o-lex is a truly remarkable scientific discovery—used by the most prominent physicians in England and by the English Government in military hospitals. Guaranteed to stop local inflammation wherever it occurs.

Ion-o-lex Liquid for internal use and Ion-o-lex Ointment for external use.

For sale by A. A. CLARKE.

How the Texas Tube test happened!

IT nettled Bill Parr considerably! So many motorists had carelessly stated that "all Tire Tubes are just Rubber." He determined to show some folks the difference, in a way they would never forget.

There were four Cars at the door, and their Owners or Drivers at his elbow.

To these he said,—"Boys,—how strong do you think this Goodrich Brown Tube actually is?"

"Do you believe it is strong enough to tow Mr. Oden's five passenger Car, with four people in it, for 20 blocks?"

"You don't, eh?" "Well now here's a bit of a Bet I want to make with any, or all, of you."

"I will bet you a Dinner that this little old regular Goodrich Tube (34x4) will not only tow Mr. Oden's Car, but will tow all three of your Cars,—fully passengers,—through the streets, for the full 21 blocks (more than a mile and a half)—starting and stopping as many times as the crowd makes it necessary."

"I will,—if you Gentlemen are agreeable,—line up all four of your Cars, right here and now, take three regular Goodrich Tubes hap-hazard out of their boxes,—tie one tube between each two Cars, (which means hauling three Cars on the first Tube) and tote You—all that way to 'The Corners.'"

"Are you willing to bet a Dinner that any one of the three Tubes will 'go broke' on the way, or show a flaw which would leak Air, or prevent its being used for its original Tire purpose afterwards?"

"You are, eh?" "Well,—the Bet's on!" "Come along, and you be the Judges."

THE Dinner was a very Cheerful Affair. As Oden said afterwards (when putting up his share of the Bet) "you could have bet me a Million on that, Parr, and I'd have taken you up,—even if I had to borrow the Million."

"I don't see how the blamed Tubes ever did hold out,—especially going up Saco St. under such a strain."

"With eight people in the last three Cars,—and a total load of over 3,500 pounds I sure thought to hear something snap before Second Block."

"Whack! you put into that brown Goodrich Rubber anyhow, to make it hang together like that?"

Fritz said that what puzzled him most was the brown Rubber Tubes "not being all stretched out of shape after such a tug, even if they did hang together at the finish."

"Look you," said he, "when we released the load,—after the Haul,—they instantly snapped back into just three-quarters of an inch longer than they were at the start!"

"And that 3/4 of an inch, they took up again in less than two hours rest!"

"WELL, boys,"—Bill Parr remarked,—as he smoothed out a wrinkle in his well-filled vest, "that'll stop the Argument about all Tire Tubes being 'just Rubber,' won't it?"

"If the Brown Stuff that tote all you Heavy-weights,—and your Cars,—for 21 blocks, without a Sign of Heavy Duty afterwards, isn't something MORE than 'just Rubber,' like other Tubes,—then you'd better buy the 'Just Rubber' kind hereafter."

"I'm going to ask all of you to sign your names to this Texas Tire Tube Test,—just to show that you have taken part in a regular Exploit which is mighty well worth recording."

So indeed they did,—and here is the affidavit:

AFFIDAVIT.
This certifies that we, the undersigned, took part in and witnessed, the Texas tube test referred to in the advertisement entitled "How the Texas Tube Test Happened!"—that the test was made on date of Nov. 11, at Waco, Texas, the distance covered being twenty-one blocks and that the result was as described.

Signed— W. M. ODEN, J. M. NASH, B. A. FRITZ, W. A. PARR.

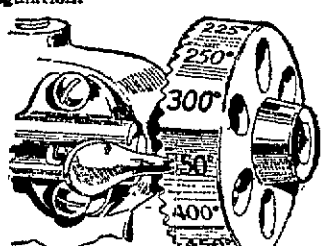

Subscribed and sworn to before me by W. M. Oden, J. M. Nash, B. A. Fritz and W. A. Parr, this 3rd day of May, A. D. 1916, at Waco, Texas.

Signed— J. C. WREN, Notary Public, McLennan County, Texas.

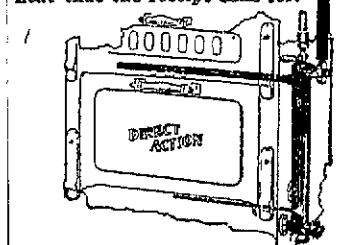

Now what think You of these GOODRICH Tire Tubes that could bear up under such a grueling test? Reflect that they cost you no more than the "ordinary" Tubes you so carelessly accept!

GOODRICH "Texas-Test" INNER-TUBES TIRES

No More Guesswork when you bake. No ruined pastry, no poorly done bread, no wasted material—no worry, because of wrong oven regulation.

Get A Direct Action Oven Thermometer and measure the heat as easily as you measure milk in a pint cup. You simply set the Temperature Wheel and obtain any degree of oven heat that the receipt calls for.

F. T. Evans
180 S. Pittsburgh St., Conneltsville, Pa.

READ THE COURIER.

MR. VOTER REMEMBER

FOR U. S. SENATE
Vote For One Mark X

HITE, WILLIAM F.
ROSENBLUM, BENJAMIN L.
SUTHERLAND, HOWARD.
WHITE, ALBERT B.

Every Ballot Marked in This Way, Is a Protest Against High Taxes and Prohibition

SENATOR Benjamin L. Rosenbloom

Republican Candidate

For United States Senate

(West Virginia Political Advertisement)

BELL-ANS

Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

THE DR. BARNES MEDICAL INSTITUTE
For the treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Blood, General, Complicated and Special Diseases of Both Sexes. Men's Diseases a Specialty.
108 W. Main Street, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

IF YOU HAVE ANYTHING FOR SALE TRY OUR CENT-A-WORD ADS.

POLLY AND HER PALS—Oh, Yes. Pa Appreciates Polly's Compliment.—By Cliff Sterrett.

Registered by U. S. Patent Office

Copyright, 1915, by Newspaper Syndicate Service. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

The Daily Courier.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice, Conneltsville, Pa.

THE COURIER COMPANY, Publishers.
J. P. SYLVESTER,
President and Managing Editor.
JAMES J. DUNN,
Secretary and Treasurer.
Advertising and Circulation Manager.

MEMBER OF:
Associated Press.
Audit Bureau of Circulations
Pennsylvania Associated Dailies.

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 3, 1916.

A DARK HORSE.

Thick dark doubt and big black mystery hang around the election of the new Chairman of the Democratic State Committee. After a number of well known names had appeared at the ringside and were down on the books as runners, it was a Dark Horse who won at Harrisburg.

Roland S. Morris of Philadelphia did not seek a reelection probably because the Democrats failed to give him endorsement when he ran for Delegate-at-Large in the Democratic National Convention. Joe Guffey of Pittsburgh, an avowed receptive candidate of many weeks' standing, suddenly discovered a violent and unexpected modesty.

Finally, our own Bruce Sterling of Fayette, who was credited with having ambitions and who by his studious silence gave cause to suspect, turned out to be merely the custodian of the office. He seems to have been carrying it around in his pocket and he tendered it to William S. McLean of Wilkes-Barre as "a tribute from the bituminous coal region to the anthracite coal region."

But the Conneltsville News, semi-official barefoot organ, says that wasn't the real reason. Bruce was just putting out a line of "Weasel Words." The truth seems to be that there were too many flustered boys of Old Guard persuasion in the committee.

UNSATISFACTORY AWARDS.

The unsatisfactory character of the awards of the County Viewers in the matter of Conneltsville street assessments is due in a large measure to the radically different rule followed in arriving at results.

Under the old borough law street paving costs were assessed by the foot-front and were payable one-third each by the property owners on both sides of the street and one-third by the borough. Under the present city law, the County Viewers consider the benefits and damages of the improvement and assess them accordingly. This eliminates damage suits, which under the old system often followed the improvement, and makes every improvement stand its own cost. There is no objection to this principle, but Conneltsville has had reason to object to the tardy manner in which the County Viewers have done their work in this city. Their delay has been a serious interference with city finances.

The inclusion in some of their recent awards of the cost of laying sewers is not the fault of the County Viewers. The estimates were submitted to them in that form by the city officials. The County Viewers are to blame, however, if they have not given all the abutting property owners ample opportunity to hear and be heard in the matter of their assessments, and that due notice was not so given might be inferred from the tardy protest against sewer costs.

As to the cost of the sewers, it might be said that the borough laid the entire sewer system of the town at public expense and in justice to the citizens that rule should be kept up. The answer to that seems to be that city customs are different, and that under them the entire cost of street paving is paid by the abutting property as well as any damages that may have been incurred. The city pays nothing for streets or sewers except in the way of repair.

It is worthy of suggestion that under this rule the city has no excuse for increasing its indebtedness except for some specific object not contemplated in the ordinary course of administration.

COMMENCEMENT.

The graduating class of the Conneltsville High School consists of 83 members and many if not most of them have graduated from the schools forever. It is their first and last commencement. The college is not for them. The world is waiting.

Fortunately the education which they are now equipped is sufficient for any ordinary course of business. Finishing schools usually put so fine a polish on the young men and women that they are no longer fit to come in contact with the rude world. They live exclusively and usually die with genteel poverty as a companion.

The High School graduate, on the other hand, gets right down to business, and if he has any ability about him it is not very long until he has made good in the world. The High School is the poor boy's college, and its educational course is a model of preparedness against the future.

After High School commencement it is time to begin.

The B. & O. gives its engineers and firemen free tickets, but the bad man on Brimstone corner gets for and in his eye prefer to risk the rail.

Fayette county doctors propose to raise their gates. The undertakers are suspected of having attended to this matter regularly.

The final Conneltsville school event will be at Shady Grove on Sunday. It will be the Junior commencement.

Connellsville may or may not buy the water plant the Conneltsville Trust can seem to be getting a look at the books.

The High School class play was a howling success.

The Germans and the British have fought a bit naval battle on the North Sea, but the accounts differ materially concerning it. It seems probable, however, that the losses on both sides were heavier than the governments like to admit.

The careful buyer insists upon careful measure.

President Wilson will not only march in the Flag Day parade at Washington, but he will make a speech on "Preparedness." He is a volunteer in the work. He is also a candidate, we understand.

Steel prices will be held at their present level by consensus of opinion between the sellers and the buyers. It would be a good thing if some more sellers were as reasonable in the matter of prices.

Villa money is 600-to-1. Bryan money would have been in the same line if his financial theories had been permitted to rise.

It is proposed to build a permanent road from Dawson to Scottville via Scottville. That's what the Dawson fair has done for Dawson.

There seem to be a lot of aliens in this country who prefer to become American citizens than to release into the European state even though T. R. may call them hyphenate.

The Congressional contest in Westmoreland county furnished about all the money spent at the primary.

Seawright is some playwright.

The $24,000 Canassa suit from Hamilton will probably bring some Kentucky law into the Fayette county courts.

Some of the Legislative candidates in Somerset county want a recount. The ticket is threatened with a wet spot.

The carnivals are coming back.

The carnivals need not quarrel over Fayette Field. There are lots of other places.

Anyhow there won't be any quarrel over the Carnegie. It will go to the South Side where all good things go.

South Conneltsville has discovered that it cannot run a town on township funds.

If the Ship Purchase bill becomes a law it is hinted that the Wilson Administration will not be above buying a few of those interested German vessels.

Kitchener is being heckled by Parliament. It is not the first time a gallant leader has been given a few lessons in war by the House of Commons.

The Wild West has some wild weather lately.

Vacation days are here.

Chicago is the hub around which the politics of the Republican world revolves just now.

Candidate Row is prepared for the worst.

There are a number of contests before the Republican National Convention, but they are being heard on their merits, not with a view to adding them to one side or the other.

Henry Gee Watson is at Chicago. It is positively his last appearance.

Carelessness Worse Than Ignorance.

The careless workman is more blameworthy than the one who is ignorant. Carelessness recognizes danger, but, recognizing it, takes a chance.

A Brief But Suggestive Platform.

Looking on the battered Baltimore platform it is suggested that the Democrats can win their St. Louis platform in the world before the work of the day is begun.

The degree of enjoyment depends largely upon whether the hour is witnessed on the parade of the new day or as the belated finish of the "night before the morning of the day after."

The Berlin Record adheres firmly to the belief that, taking things by and large, one can buy just as cheaply of the home merchants as from the most widely advertised mail order house.

And through buying both small and large things at home the buyer will help himself and his merchant neighbor to pay home taxes instead of swelling mail order house dividends or helping to pay taxes in some far distant city.

The Johnstown Democrat finds that it is possible to get almost anything by a common sense advertisement, but the advertiser has to be smart.

And requires more than if he keeps everlastingly at it.

The Altoona Tribune makes the assertion that the impression seems to be growing that the uniform primary law should go.

It has become to be more than an impression; it is a positive conviction.

The Cumberland Times, pointing that sheet are to be advanced another dollar in price is moved to exclaim, "Barefoot boys, beware on you!"

Reference is here made to Whittier's boy "With cheeks of tan" and not to Fayette's barefoot boys with tons of cheek.

The Philadelphia Ledger finds that even the Free-Trade Democrats believe that in industrial preparedness it is a case of or die.

Meantime they'll die if they don't prepare to do.

Wants to be Shown.

Unquestionably the race across the West Virginia Panhandle and Greene county would lower the freight rates on the holding, but we're from the West Virginia Panhandle and would be a Godsend to the county. J. V. Thompson planned to build a similar road several years ago and if the present scheme is carried out it will tend valuable assistance in the rehabilitation of this holding.

More Optimism Needed.

The editor of the Waynesburg Independent does not take much stock in the projected railroad from Wheeling to Waynesburg; and on to the Monongahela river. He has heard the cry of "Railroad, Railroad," before, and nothing came of it. But there will be a railroad built into Greene, some time, and this may be the time if we were publishing a paper in Greene county we would be slow to scout at rumors of railroads in those boom times; for fear that we might "scout" at the wrong time. Lay in a new supply of Optimism, brother.

Salvation to Little Greene.

Waynesburg Independent.

If this railroad is built, and there is every evidence that it will be, it will prove the great day of salvation in Greene county. From a business standpoint.

Don't Know the Meaning.

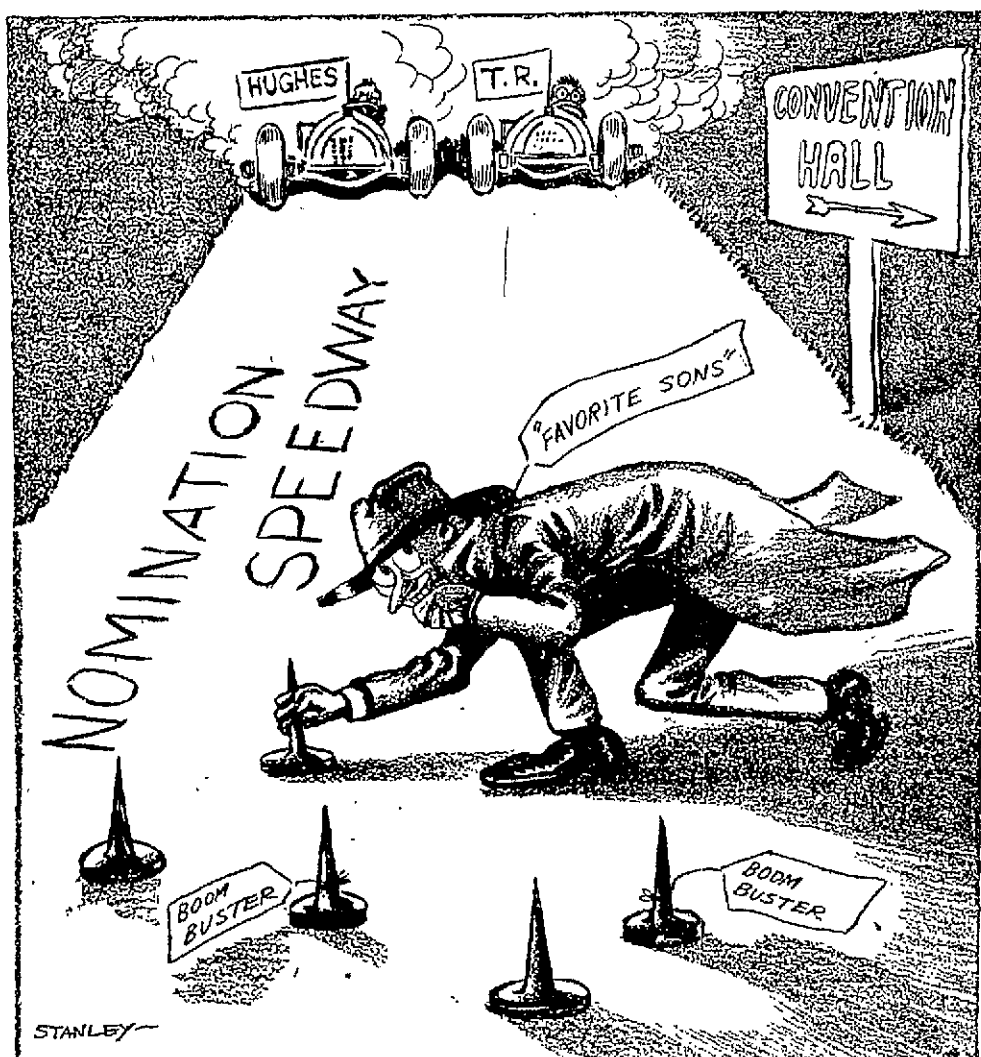

We don't know what it means but we're hopeful. One thing we do know, the people of Greene county do not owe the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The careful buyer insists upon careful measure.

The Germans and the British have fought a bit naval battle on the North Sea, but the accounts differ materially concerning it. It seems probable, however, that the losses on both sides were heavier than the governments like to admit.

The careful buyer insists upon careful measure.

Does This Mean Tire Trouble?

Classified Advertisements.

One Cent a Word.

No advertisements for Less Than 15 Cents.
Classified columns close at noon. Advertisements of wants, sales, etc., received after that hour will not appear until the day following.

Wanted. For Rent.
WANTED—YOUR BARBERING business. RENTING $1. 2June2d

WANTED—GENERAL HOUSEWORK. Write N. V. L. care Courier. 2June2d

WANTED—EXPERIENCED DINING room girl at MANHATTAN CAFE. 2June2d

WANTED—DISHWASHER and chambermaid at CUPP'S RESTAURANT. 2June2d

WANTED—EXPERIENCED WAITress at BROADWAY RESTAURANT. 2June2d

WANTED—WORK BY DAY. Oil washings. Call at House No. 6, 31402 ROW, or at Sligo Office. 2June2d

WANTED—YOUNG MAN TO HELP in kitchen and girl for laundry work at B. & O. Restaurant, 305 Water St. 2June2d

WANTED—LADY OF REFINEMENT, part day, as traveling companion to lady. Good wages. Address "M. M. M. M." 2June2d

WANTED—BY A GIRL—WORK in hotel or restaurant without cleaning or chambermaid. Address to S. F. Oliver, Pa. 2June2d

WANTED—SHAFT BINKER'S WANTED. Steady work, highest wages. Apply to P. D. JOSEPH, 211 W. Main St., West Conemaugh, Pa. 2June2d

WANTED—FIRST CLASS MACHINIST. Steady work and good wages. Apply at CONNELLSVILLE MACHINE & CAR COMPANY. 2June2d

WANTED—MAN WHO UNDERstands and who has had experience in hotel or restaurant. Address to S. F. Oliver, Pa. 2June2d

WANTED—DINING ROOM GIRL. Good hours and wages. Reference required. Call in person or phone CONN'S RESTAURANT, Mount Pleasant. 2June2d

WANTED—EXPERIENCED BOOK-keeper and stenographer; must be quick and accurate. State salary expected. Apply in own handwriting to "care Courier." 2June2d

WANTED—WOMEN—FILL TIME making $1.50 selling automobile hoodies to women; 2c an hour spare time. Permanent; experience unnecessary. INTERNATIONAL HOSIERY, Harrisburg, Pa. 2June2d

WANTED—YOU TO KNOW THAT we clean, block and bleach all kinds and shapes of straw and Panama hats at reasonable prices. Ten years experience. J. L. PERDUE, 211 W. Main St., City. 2June2d

WANTED—ANY INTELLIGENT person may earn steady income corresponding for newspapers. Experience unnecessary. Address CORRESPONDENCE PRESS BUREAU, Washington, D. C. 2June2d

WANTED—TWO LIVE WIRE YOUNG men for assistance. Splendid chance of advancement. Experience not necessary. If honest and ambitious. Call this morning from 8:30 to 8:50 or Monday morning from 8 to 10 o'clock; 300 Tilt & Trust Building, Conneltsville. 2June2d

WANTED—CANYASSERS, $12.00 per week for women canvassers, experienced clean cut people for house to house canvassing on foot. Only experienced people need apply. Phone 1872-3, Greenburg for appointment or apply by letter to C. W. Thompson, Greenburg, Pa. 2June2d

For Rent.
FOR RENT—FIVE ROOM HOUSE on Mass Avenue. RENT $20.00. 2June2d

FOR RENT—MODERN HOUSE on Gibson Avenue. Call 122-4 Bell Phone. 2June2d

FOR RENT—FURNISHED. ROOM. Gentleman preferred; 1149 RACE ST. Bell phone 117-B. 2June2d

FOR RENT—FURNISHED FLAT of four rooms and bath; 117 EAST MAIN STREET. 2June2d

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS for light housekeeping. 1515 W. Fifth Street. 2June2d

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM UNDER MONROE HALL. 2June2d

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM UNDER MONROE HALL. 2June2d

Thursday, June First

It Is Time for Straw Hats

Ordinarily most men would have bought a straw hat long before this, but the bleak, cold, rainy May days was the obstruction. The weather prognosticators, and all other indications, now insist that we are going to have warm weather. So, boys, it is time to prepare. Buy your straw hat, and if you want to be right in the height of style, a Union Supply Company store is the proper place to buy it. The new goods are all in. It would be a task to enumerate the different styles for men, young men, and boys. There are many different kinds, and very medium in price. Even if you have to buy two during the season it would not be extravagant. There are many nice, neat, stylish straw hats for girls and children also; some mannish in appearance, but that is what the girls like nowadays. So make ready for the straw hat; make a dash for a Union Supply Company store. They are headquarters for styles, but the greatest inducement—it is a money saving place for you to purchase it.

Union Supply Co.

63 Large Department Stores,
Located in Fayette, Westmoreland and Allegheny Counties.

Hooper & Long Have Them

Newest Styles, Latest Designs

Shoes, Pumps, Oxfords, Strap Slippers

A Splendid Variety of Styles. See Them

HOOPER & LONG

SEALED BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY L. J. West, Purchasing Agent, at City Hall, until 7 P. M. Monday, June 5, 1916, for the "Running Gear" of a fire hose wagon; it is in first class condition. The reason for selling is, the city has obtained the best of said hose wagon to a motor truck. 2June2d

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

Do you know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign stay away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchants, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to do to warn people "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads "round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all, so

ADVERTISE IN

THIS PAPER

Are You in Arrears?

—your subscription? You know we need the money

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

WE NEED THE MONEY

EXHIBIT OF WORK OPENS GRADUATING WEEK AT SCOTSDALE

Tomorrow Evening Rev.
Torbrush Will Preach Baccalaureate Sermon.

COMMENCEMENT ON TUESDAY

Pittsburg Man Will Deliver Address
Class Play Will Be Presented On Monday Evening; Suffrage Tea Is Given In Honor of Pittsburg Woman.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, June 3.—Yesterday afternoon and last evening the exhibition at the high school drew a large crowd. The exhibition this year was one of the best in the history of the schools. There was library tables, piano benches, desks, cedar chests, a bookcase, footstools and hammered brass from the manual training department. Of special mention was an exact model of the Y. M. C. A., made by William Hawthorne, which was one-twenty-fourth the size of the Y. M. C. A. on Spring street. From the art department there was very pretty work in baskets, some good model clay work and some excellent drawings and paintings. The freestanding drawings made by the girls of the senior class to be used as a design for the cover of the 1916 program were on exhibition. Special mention was given those made by Dorcas Hill, Ethel Elcher, Gertrude Cramer and Florence Finney. From the domestic science department there were cakes, candy, pies, cookies, doughnuts and jelly. During the evening the girls gave cooking exhibitions. This is the beginning of the commencement exercises. Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock the baccalaureate sermon will be given in the Methodist Episcopal Church by Rev. G. W. Torbrush. The class play will be given Monday evening in the Scottdale Theatre. The commencement exercises will be held in the Scottdale Theatre on Tuesday evening. The speaker of the evening will be Charles M. Gregg of the Gazette Times.

ALUMNI DANCE.
The Scottdale High School Alumni gave their annual dance to the seniors last evening in the Field Hall. Out-of-town guests were present from Mount Pleasant, Conneltsville, Uniontown and Morgantown. Kiffet's orchestra furnished the music. The committee in charge was Fred Collins, Meyer Morris, Charles Lawdell, Harold Andrews and Frank Newlingham.

On next Thursday evening the Juniors will give their reception to the seniors in the Elcher & Craft Hall.

SUFFRAGE TEA.
Miss Irene Loucks gave a suffrage tea at her home here yesterday. The house was beautifully decorated in yellow, the suffrage color. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. J. O. Miller of Pittsburg who gave an address that was greatly enjoyed by all those who were present. Mrs. William Fulton of Wilkesburg, and Mrs. D. H. Stenger of Mount Pleasant, were the only out-of-town guests. Refreshments were served. Miss Loucks was assisted by Mrs. Floyd Durey, Miss Emma Gibson, Miss Zella Lowe, Miss Ruth Jenika, and Miss Lillian Perry.

FOR SALE.
6 room house 15 acre lot, fruit of all kinds, for $1,000.00.
6 room house, bath and heater, lot 12x125 feet, taxes $12.00 per year, for $1,000.
6 room house, like new, modern, good residence section, for $2,700.
5 room house, gas and water, for $1,200.00.
6 room brick house, lot 45x125 feet, for $1,900.00. L. F. DeWitt, Brennen Building.—Adv.

NOTES.
Mr. and Mrs. James Bates left today to visit Pittsburg friends.
Mrs. Ida Parker had for her guests part of this week Mrs. M. J. Adams of Somerset, Mrs. Lenhart and Mrs. Miller of Conneltsville.

Charles Eckley of Wilkesburg spent yesterday with his mother, Mrs. Robert Eckley.
Mrs. Fred Moser spent yesterday in Pittsburg.
Miss Alameda Sherry and Miss Sarah Hood of Mount Pleasant, were the guests of Mrs. Janet Parry on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones of Monaca, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Homestead avenue.

George Fretts was a business caller in Greensburg yesterday.
Mrs. L. C. Kessler spent yesterday in Pittsburg.
Harry Parker left yesterday to visit in Buckhannon, W. Va.
Miss B. Cawley and Mrs. Anna Kelly have gone to Petersburg, Va., to spend the summer.
Miss Mae Parker has gone to Hot Springs, N. C., for a visit.
Misses Mildred, Mae and Marie DeHaven of Wilkesburg, spent Memorial Day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis DeHaven.

PERRYPOLES.

PERRYPOLES, June 3.—The board of officers and teachers of the Perryopolis Methodist Episcopal Sunday school met at the church Wednesday evening for the purpose of reorganizing the school for the coming year. The following officers were elected: Superintendent, Leroy Martin; assistant superintendent, J. S. Forsythe, superintendent of junior department, Edmund Martin, superintendent of primary department, Mrs. R. F. Kammer; superintendent of home department, Mrs. D. L. Hixenbaugh; secretary, H. J. Hixenbaugh; treasurer, J. A. Byers, superintendent of cradle roll, Sylvia Hixenbaugh; librarians, C. T. Davidson, Paul Hixenbaugh, Albert Davison; choir leader, H. H. Hixenbaugh; organist, Edna Carson; assistant organist, Mrs. J. D. Snyder.

The secretary's report for the year

Newest Trimmed

H-A-T-S

$3.95

Up to $7.50 Values

Choice of Milan Hemp, Leghorn, Lisere, Plain Hemp in black and all the newest shades. Included are also a large variety of White Hats in Sport and Dress effects. All beautifully trimmed with flowers, ribbons, wings and other novelty trimmings. Styles are Sailors, Mushrooms, Pokes and other new creations. Many with satin and crepe facings.

$1.50 and $1.75 79c
Untrimmed Hats

Every shape of the most desirable style; everyone most becoming; quality the best even at the regular price. Mostly black, also colors. While they last, only 79c

Women's Pumps & Oxfords

Worth $5.50 and $6.50

$4 and $4.50

Discriminating women will recognize the style and beauty of these new Oxfords and Pump models, designed especially for style and quality. Shown in splendid all grey kid, all white kid and champagne. Turned and hand-sewed welt soles, covered wood heels to match.

Sport Oxfords $2.95
$3.50 Values

Women's White Canvas Sport Oxfords, with patent leather trimming, excellent quality rubber sole and heel.

75c Women's and Misses' Oxfords 59c
50c Women's and Children's Barefoot Sandals 39c

We give United Profit Sharing Coupons with each purchase. They are twice as valuable as any other stamps.

New Styles Every Week

THE "FERN"

$1.00
Waist

We receive weekly shipments of this Waist which insures you of the latest and most recent styles. The value, too, is above the average 1.00 waist and the variety is quite large. Sold in sealed envelopes—all sizes.

If the words "Special Value" were painted in letters 10 feet high they wouldn't be more startling than this.

Women's and Misses' Silk and Cloth Suits up to $25 values

$12.75

This splendid group consists of the broken sizes of our finer garments, also a special purchase from one of the best Suit Manufacturers in the country. Included are Poiret Twills, Gabardine Silks in blue, black, navy; also the newest checks—all with the visible evidences of smart style and excellent tailoring, that set these Suits far beyond the commonplace.

Women's and Misses' Sport Coats Up to $10.00 Values $5.90

$3.50 Women and Misses' Wash Dresses $1.95

Fine Sailor Dresses in a big variety of washable materials, such as quality chambrays, linens, etc. Plain white and colors. All sizes.

$2.95 Women and Misses' Wash Skirts $1.95

A splendid assortment of well tailored, newest awning striped Skirts, and other popular materials. All waist bands.

MICHELIN 12 to 15% Extra Weight

When you buy your next tire make this simple test. Let us weigh a Michelin Universal Tire in comparison with any other non-skid of the same size.

You will find the Michelin 12 to 15% heavier than the average, the exact percentage depending on the size of the tires used in the test.

This extra weight represents extra rubber and fabric, which means extra service.

Connellsville Garage
East Apple Street

ONE QUALITY ONLY—THE BEST

WATCH ACID MOUTHS.

Acid in the mouth is dangerous. It promotes decay of teeth. It may lead to pyorrhea and it causes ill health in many ways.

There is a sure, safe way to correct, cleanse and purify acid mouths. Nothing is superior to hyclorite, the remarkably effective antiseptic obtained at any drug store. It at once removes disease germs and stops decay. It cleanses, heals and purifies. It has no disagreeable taste and leaves the mouth clean and free from bad breath odors and removes acid. Got a bottle of hyclorite, for it is economical and can be used for many purposes in the home. General Laboratories, Madison, Wis.

INDIAN CREEK.

INDIAN CREEK, June 3.—Mrs. William Reed of Pittsburg, Mrs. J. D. Habel and Mrs. Thomas Walker and son of Sand Patch, are spending a few days here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Habel.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ohler were calling on Conneltsville friends and shopping.

Jesse Hart of Hutchinson was a business caller in Conneltsville yesterday.

J. M. Stauffer was a business caller in Conneltsville and Scottdale yesterday.

Abraham Miller of Normalville was transacting business in Conneltsville and Uniontown yesterday.

Mrs. S. C. Kulp left for Conneltsville last evening and will spend a few days visiting friends.

Walter Nicholson of Mill Run was a Conneltsville caller yesterday.

Miss Francis Kern of Conneltsville attended the funeral of Silas Pringle yesterday.

The Modern Bathroom

Is the most sumptuous room in the house in proportion to its size. Modern plumbing embodies the maximum of convenience, sanitary quality, artistic beauty and luxurious comfort. As expert plumbers we can advise you how to make your bath room modern, hygienic and sanitary. Talk the matter over with us. And our jobbing and repair department is at your service.

We Make a Specialty of Remodeling Defective Work—Jobbing and Repair Work.

Our Watchword is Quality and Service.

F. T. EVANS

Beil 72. Tri-State 142.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

Want Ads. 1c a Word.

Specials for Friday and Saturday

HEINZ GOODS
Large 15c Can Heinz Baked Beans	13c
10c Size Heinz Baked Beans, 3 for	25c
Large Crock Apple Butter	30c
Heinz Ketchup, 3 bottles	25c
Heinz Spaghetti, 3 cans	25c
Heinz Mustard, 3 glasses	25c
CANNED GOODS
Sunrise Cream Corn, 3 cans for	25c
Mayday (Early June) Peas, 3 cans for	25c
Rex Peas, per can	8c
Diamond String Beans, per can	8c
Tall Cans Milk, all brands, per can	8c
Pure Molasses, 3 cans for	25c
Satisfaction Corn Syrup, 3 cans for	25c
Satisfaction Molasses, regular 25c, for	17c
Victor Brand Pink Salmon, 3 tall cans	25c
Raceland Brand Salmon, reg. 10c, 4 cans 25c
Quart Bottle Ketchup, reg. 25c size	18c
Spanish Olives, regular 35c size	27c
Salado Oil, large bottle	16c
Large Bottles Stove Polish, 2 for	15c
Salt, big bags	4c
Sunrise Corn, 2 cans for	15c
Red Bird Corn, per can	8c
Diamond Brand String Beans, can	5c
Best Noiseless Matches, 2 boxes for
Argo Starch, per package	4c
Fancy Head Rice, per lb.	7c
White Barley, per lb.	5c
Fancy Small Barley, per lb.	6c
Uneda Biscuits, per sack	4c
Soda Crackers, salted or plain, per lb.	8c
Eagle Brand Sardines in oil, 3 cans	10c
Mother's Oats, 3 boxes	25c
Extra Large 25c pkg. Washing Powder, 14c
Soaping, 3 packages for	11c
White Naphtha Soap, per cake	4c
Loose Coffee, reg. 20c, now sells at	14c
Loose Coffee, reg. 25c, now sells at	19c
Loose Coffee, reg. 35c, now sells at	29c
All Fresh Cakes, per pound	10c
Fancy White Syrup, reg. 60c gallon, for 49c
Sweetheart Soap, 3 for 11c; 7 bars for 25c
Sweetheart Soap, 3 bars for	11c
Soda Crackers, 3 lbs. for	15c
Argo Starch, 3 packages for	11c
Hershey's Cocoa, 1/2-lb. can	16c
Hershey's Cocoa, 1-lb. can	7c
Rumford's Baking Powder, 1-lb. can	25c
Rumford's Baking Powder, 1/2-lb. can	13c
Best Creamery Butter	36c
Cream Cheese, lb.	21c

The Union Market Grocery

Weihe Building,

112 S. Pittsburg St.

All Orders Promptly Delivered

Brewed from the choicest materials in that Good Old German Way

Y O U G H

"It Hits the Spot"

Big Auction Sale of Choice Lots

The Scottdale Land Company Offers 100 CHOICE BUILDING LOTS

In The Center of Scottdale Borough, Being Part of Jacob
S. Loucks' Addition to Scottdale
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, JUNE 9 and 10
SALE STARTS AT ONE O'CLOCK P. M. EACH DAY.

$500--Five Hundred Dollars in Gold and Prizes Given Away Free--$500

How The Gold Will Be Distributed

All parties over 15 years of age of the Caucasian Race present at the sale will have the right to participate in the drawings for Gold, which will be given away in $5.00 pieces. One at each drawing. The only condition is that you be present each time the drawing takes place. So be on the job at all times during sales as the drawings for gold will be made at frequent intervals throughout the afternoon at both sales.

All Ladies Present Over 15 Years of Age Will Receive a Gift.

FREE BAND CONCERT

The famous G. A. R. Band of Scottdale will be present each day and give free concerts during sales.

TAKE A DAY OFF

And hear Col. C. W. Morrow, auctioneer. Enjoy yourself while you live for you will be a long time dead.

When a lot sale comes along with a brass band and a number of Free Cash Prizes and Gifts to be given to some one who will give up the regular grind of daily toil, come out in the fresh air, forget your troubles and meet your friends. You don't have to buy or even bid on a lot. It is all free and you are cordially invited to have all the fun going.

Easy Terms of Payment

A liberal discount will be allowed for cash in full for lots purchased if paid within 10 days from date of sale. You need pay only 10% of purchase price down and balance in monthly installments of 5%, with 6% interest on all deferred payments.

Free Band Concerts

Everybody Invited

Win a Gold Piece

For Further Information Watch the Papers or Communicate With

The Scottdale Land Company, Scottdale, Penna.

NEWS OF THE DAY AS GATHERED UP AT MT. PLEASANT

Church Street School Children Win Prizes for Perfect Attendance.

SERMON TO THE HIGH SCHOOL

Graduates Will Hear Talk at United Presbyterian Church Tomorrow Evening; Institute Commencement Will Be Held Monday; News Notes.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, June 3.—Miss Opal Berthel, principal of the Church street building, instituted a perfect attendance and punctuality campaign at the beginning of the term in which every child who was not tardy or absent for a month got his name on the board in the hall. This chart was run from month to month. Ribbons of different color were used each month, and after attending three months without missing a certificate was given. At the close of school 25 had not been absent nor tardy during the term and were given a book. Those who got books were:

Seventh grade, Jessie Brown, George Henderson, Jean Marsh, Lillian Ganes, Mabel Johnston, Nellie Queer, Florence Stillwagon, James Shields, Charles Mathias and Ralph Easton.
Sixth grade, Glenn Jaquette, Joseph Rideout and Mary Dawkins.
Fifth grade, Edward Walker and Blaine Gibbonney.
Fourth grade, Edward Koller, John Quiser and Ruth Reese.
Third grade, Patsy Kelly, Ward Brown, Edward Clark, Lewis Gough, and Thelma Brorichneck.
Second grade, Evelyn Korright, Margaret Gully and Erskine Hout.
GIVE A RECIPE.

A large crowd attended the post graduate recital at the Institute library last evening given by Miss Iola Zeehouser and Miss Emma Cunningham.

SERMON TO CLASS.
On Sunday morning the benedictine ceremony will be preached to high school graduating class by Rev. W. T. Lytle in the United Presbyterian Church and in the evening the benedictine ceremony will be delivered to the senior class of the Mount Pleasant Institute by Rev. A. W. Barclay. This will not be a union service of the different churches as is usual, but will be a service at each church, other churches having their regular services as usual.

INSTITUTION EXERCISES.
On Monday evening in the Grand Opera House the commencement exercises of the Institute will be held when an excellent concert program will be given by the graduates and an address by Rev. I. E. Runk of Scottdale.

NOTES.
Miss Alice Craig was buried in the Greenlick cemetery yesterday afternoon following funeral services at the Greenlick church.

Mrs. Jerome Kobacker will leave Sunday for New York to attend the wedding of her sister. She will visit some time in New York.

Mrs. James Harkins left yesterday to visit Johnstown friends.

Mrs. Harriet Gully and Miss Rachel Clark left yesterday to visit their brother, W. P. Clark in Conneltsville.

GO NO FARTHER

The Evidence Is at Your Door.
Connellsville proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt.

Hon. H. Bowers, 1204 Vine street, Conneltsville, says: "For the last twenty years my kidneys have been in bad shape. My greatest complaint was rheumatic pains and I was sick and bedridden for several weeks. My back ached terribly at times and I was bothered by having to get up in the night to pass the kidney secretions. I used a lot of medicine, but nothing but Doan's Kidney Pills helped me. They are all that I have been using for years, since I found out how good they are. It takes only a few doses of this remedy to give me relief."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply take for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bowers uses. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

DAWSON.

DAWSON, June 2.—Mrs. Mary Edwards has returned home from a visit with friends and relatives at Pittsburg.

Mrs. J. S. Laughrey, Mrs. W. H. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown, Mrs. R. B. Howell and Miss Alpha French attended the commencement exercises at Lenoir last evening.

Amey George of Conneltsville, was in town Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanson of Uniontown, are visiting at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mong.

Mrs. David Scoursfield, Mrs. Anna Sherbondy and Mrs. Sturgis Bailey were visitors at Lenoir Thursday.

Mrs. Richard Howell was a Pittsburg caller Thursday.

Read The Daily Courier.

Miss Mary Mong was calling on friends in Conneltsville Thursday.

The Dawson Bakery is undergoing some new improvements, among which is the building being beautified with a new coat of paint.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Evans were Pittsburg callers Wednesday.

Stanley Mong has returned to his work at Dickerson Run after a weeks visit to Cumberland, Washington and Baltimore.

L. S. Mellinger, William Cossel and Isaac Bush are Pittsburg callers today.

Get a Flag
At this office for Coupon and 98c.
Size 5x8 feet.

At the Theatres

SONSON THEATRE.

"THE WOMAN IN 17."—The popular screen star, Alice Brady, appears at the Sonson Theatre today in the thrilling five reel photodrama, "The Woman in 17." It is full of tense, gripping situations, in which the liveliest interest is sustained to the end. It tells the story of a young Italian girl who, to escape the tyranny of a cruel uncle and to marry her lover, comes to America, becomes the victim of the plottings and machinations of some unscrupulous men but finally wins happiness and peace. Alice Brady is one of the most widely and best known of American screen stars, her appearance in "The Rack" and other film successes giving the assurance of a forceful, vivid handling of the extremely difficult role which falls to her lot in "The Woman in 17." The scenes range from a little roadside tavern in Italy, through the squalid quarters of the Italian section of the great city, a luxuriously appointed home, where everything that wealth can ask for is granted, a fashionable shop, one of New York's prominent hotels, and other interesting places, to the final happy ending where Viola and her lover are united. The dramatic interest is intense and compels the closest attention to every detail that is flashed on the screen. The complications which follow the repulsive by the heroine of a man who attempts to attack her make a combination which cannot fail to hold those who see it spellbound by its gripping scenes. "A Wife at Bay," a five reel drama featuring Ben Wilson and Dorothy Phillips. It is the story of a retired lawyer who is entrusted with some important documents. His enemy bears about them over the telephone and plans to secure possession of them. The lawyer's wife becomes indebted to him through gambling and promises to aid him if he won't tell her husband about her gambling habits. "Grouches and Smiles" is a Laemmle comedy drama with Myrtle Gonzalez and Paul Pan in the cast. Mr. Grouches wakes up one morning peeved. Nothing pleases him and everyone in the house is scowling. Finally the scowl turns to a smile. "A Toyland Robbery" is a Powers juvenile drama. Dolly is an operator and has many trials. Monday Rene Kelly in the five reel drama, "All for a Girl."

GLOBE THEATRE.

"THE COME BACK."—Starring Earl Lockwood and May Allison, will be presented Monday at the Globe. "The Come Back" is a five part Metro attraction and is capably acted by an all star cast. Randall Ridgeway, a lumber king, learns of his contracting company in Northern Maine, carrying on crooked transactions. His son, Bert, overhears his father discussing the matter and asks if he might investigate. His father refuses, thinking his son too young and not strong enough physically to deal with the woodsmen. Mac Herberston who controls the camp in Maine, hears of Ridgeway's suspicions. He compels his bookkeeper to arrange a double set of books, under penalty of exposing him for a murder he saw him commit. Burt Ridgeway falls in with a fast crowd and meets a professional dancer named Lotus de Vaine. Under the spell of the girl, and the direction of an unscrupulous chaplain, Burt becomes involved financially. He goes to his father for more money. His father, fearful that his son is not improving his time, puts him to a test. He gives him $25,000 with the understanding that every time he adds another thousand to the amount he will present him with an additional $5,000. With more funds at his disposal Burt strikes a faster pace. In a rage his father orders him from home. He leaves and makes straight for the lumber camp in Maine. The young man is like a child in the hands of the woodsmen, and is knocked cold with two sharp blows. Burt later forces a confession from the worthless bookkeeper. Soon after his arrival at the camp Burt becomes interested in Patsy Herberston, a pretty girl of the woods, and the ward of Mac Herberston. A will is found by Burt in which Patsy's grandfather names her his sole beneficiary of his estate on her 18th birthday. Today's program includes "His Mother's Son," a Biograph drama, "The Unknown," an Essanay drama in three acts, presenting Marguerite Clayton and Richard Travers in a Ham and Claud comedy.

TROTTER WINS GAME

Seores 18 Runs Against Bitter; Denies Davidson Charge.

The Trotter baseball team defeated the Bitter team on the Trotter grounds last evening, 18-1. The game was one-sided from the beginning, Trotter making base hits almost at will. The scorer even got "lost," there being so many runs, hits and errors that he could not mark them down rapidly enough to keep up with the game. Trotter also issues a statement that the Davidson team which forfeited the game to them Thursday evening, quit without just cause. R. W. Cover, the Trotter manager, says that the Davidson captain agreed to let him umpire in the absence of the regular official. He also states that it would have been impossible for him to learn Davidson's signals soon enough to let the first two Trotter batters know what was going to be pitched. Davidson based their charge on the fact that the first two batters up got a two-base hit each.

DENNY FINANCED CLARK.

McKeeporter Furnished Funds For The Primary Campaign.
According to the expense account filed by J. V. Clark of Washington county, spent $185 in trying to win the Republican nomination for slate treasurer away from E. M. Kaplan. Of this amount $400 was contributed by J. Denny O'Neil of McKeesport, formerly commissioner of Allegheny county.

Facts Versus Fallacies

FACT is a real state of things. FALLACY is an apparently genuine but really illogical statement or argument.

TREMENDOUS quantities of patent medicines are sold in Prohibition States. Whether this is due to the FACT that persons living in "dry" territory are not blessed with the same good health enjoyed by their fellows in "wet" territory—or, whether it be due to other causes, is a moot question. But the FACT that relates to most patent medicines is that many of them contain alcohol in big quantities.

DR. MENAS S. GREGORY, director of the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital, in New York, says, in an interview in the New York Tribune that "The American people spend $500,000,000 annually on patent medicines." According to the United States Internal Revenue Department, there are manufactured in this country between three and four hundred of these so-called "tonics," "stomach bitters" and "nervines"—all with a large proportion of alcohol.

THE New York Tribune then publishes a list of patent medicines, and the amount of alcohol contained in each "according to labels in the possession of the Department of Agriculture at Washington." The correctness of the figures, therefore, cannot be questioned!

ACCORDING to these figures Peruna contains 18% alcohol—Paine's Celery Compound 19.85% alcohol—Hall's Great Discovery 43% alcohol. Contrast these figures with the amount of alcohol contained in American Brewed Beer—3 to 5%—with an average of a trifle over 4%—and we find a possible reason for the enormous consumption of patent medicines in Prohibition States.

IS IT not a FALLACY, in the light of the above figures furnished by the United States Government, to say Prohibition obtains in certain places when the FACT that beer containing 4% alcohol is barred, and a patent medicine containing 43% alcohol is permitted to be "taken internally?"

Pennsylvania State Brewers' Association

WHITE LINE TRANSFER
J. N. TRUMP,
Moving and Hauling
PIANOS A SPECIALTY.
WE SELL SAND.
Office 103 E. Grape Alley, Opposite P. R. R. depot. Both Phones

FLAG COUPON
THE DAILY COURIER.
Present this Coupon and 98 Cents and receive a $2.50 Flag. Size 5x8 feet, clamp dyed, containing 48 stars.

Patronize Those Who Advertise.

Classified Advertisements 1c a Word.

THE CITY OF NUMBERED DAYS

by FRANCIS LYND

ILLUSTRATIONS by C. D. RHODES

COPYRIGHT BY CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

It was later in the day, an hour or so after the serving of the hearty upper in the engineers' mess tent, that Brouillard was given to see another and still less tolerable side of his temporary guest. Hostford had come into the office to plant himself solidly in the makeshift easy chair for the smoking of a big, black after-supper cigar.

"I've been looking over your rules and regulations, Brouillard," he began, after an interval of silence which Brouillard had been careful not to break. "You're making a capital mistake in trying to transplant the old Connecticut blue laws out here. Your workmen ought to have the right to spend their money in any way that suits 'em."

Brouillard was pointedly occupying himself at his desk, but he looked up long enough to say: "Whiskey, you mean?"

"That and other things. They tell me you don't allow any open gambling or any women here outside of the families of the workmen."

"We don't," was the short rejoinder. "That won't hold water after we get things fairly in motion."

"It will have to hold water as far as we are concerned, if I have to build a stockade around the camp," snapped Brouillard.

Hostford's heavy face wrinkled itself in a merciless smile. "You're nutty," he remarked. "When I find a man bearing down hard on all the little vices, it always makes me wonder what's the name of the corking big one he is trying to cover up."

Since there was obviously no peaceful reply to be made to this, Brouillard bent lower over his work and said nothing. At every fresh step in the forced acquaintance the newcomer was persistently developing new antagonisms. Sooner or later, Brouillard knew, it would come to an open rupture, but he was hoping that the actual hostilities could be postponed until after Hostford had worn out his temporary welcome as a guest in the engineers' mess.

"I Can't Believe It, Murray. It's a Leaf Out of the Book of Ecclesiastes!"

For a time the big man in the easy chair smoked on in silence. Then he began again:

"Say, Brouillard, I saw one little girl today that didn't belong to your workmen's family outfit, and she's a peach, come riding down the trail with her brother from that mine up on the south mountain—Massingale, isn't it? By Jove! she fairly made my mouth water!"

Inasmuch as no man can read field notes when the page has suddenly become a red blur, Brouillard looked up. "You are my guest, in a way, Mr. Hostford, for that reason I can't very well tell you what I think of you." So much he was able to say quickly. Then the control mechanism burned out in a flash of fiery rage and he cursed the guest furiously and comprehensively winding up with a crude and savage threat of dismemberment if he should ever venture so much as to name Miss Massingale again in the presence of his hearing.

Hostford sat up slowly and his big face turned darkly red. "So you're that kind of a fire-water, are you? I didn't suppose anything like that ever happened outside of the tent—"

"And the next minute?" she prompted.

"The next minute you are a witch, laughing at the man's little weakness, putting your finger on them as accurately as if you could read his soul, holding them up to your ridicule and—what's much worse—to his own. At such times your insight, or what ever you choose to call it, is enough to give a man a fit of seeing things."

Her laugh was like a schoolgirl's, light-hearted, ringing, deliciously unrestrained.

"What a picture!" she commented. "And then I can draw a better one of you, Monsieur Victor de Brouillard!"

"Do it," he dared.

"Very well then: Once upon a time—it was a good while ago, I'm afraid—you were a very upright young man. You would cheerfully have died for a principle in those days, and you would have allowed the enemy to cut you up into cunning little inch cubes before you would have admitted that any person was ever made to be plucked."

"He was smiling intently, with the black mustaches taking the sardonic upcurve."

"Then what happened?"

"One of two things, or maybe both of them. You were pushed out into the life race with some sort of a handicap. I don't know what it was—or is. Is the track?"

He nodded gravely. "It is all true enough. You haven't added anything more than a graceful little touch here and there. Who has been telling you all these things about me? Not Grizby?"

"No, not Murray Grizby. It was the man you think you know best in all the world—who is also probably the one you know the least—yourself."

"Good heavens! Am I really such a transparent egoist as all that?"

"All men are egoists," she answered calmly. "In some the ego is sound and clear-eyed and strong, in others it is weak—in the same way that passion is weak, it will sacrifice all it has or hopes to have in some sudden fury of self-assertion."

She sat up and put her hands to her hair, and he was free to look away, down upon the great ditch where the endless chain of concrete buckets added to the deep and widespread foundations of the dam. Across the river a group of hidden sawmills sang their raucous song. In the middle distance the camp town city spread its roughly indicated streets over the valley level, the tall chimney stacks of the new cement plant were rising, and from the quarries beyond the plant the dull thunder of the blasts drifted up.

This was not Brouillard's first visit to the camp on the Massingale claim by many. In the earliest stages of the valley civilization Smith, the Buckskin cattleman, had been Amy Massingale's escort to the reclamation camp—"Just a couple of lookers," in Smith's phrase—and the unconventional attitudes had done the rest. From that day forward the young woman had hospitably opened her door to Brouillard and his assistants, and any member of the corps from Washington the morose, who commonly came to the solemn silence on the porch step, to Griffith, who had lost his youthful heart to Miss Massingale on his first visit, was welcome.

"But now," she queried—"now, I suppose, you have become reconciled?"

"I am growing more philosophical, let us say. There are just about so many pigeons to be plucked, anyway; they'd molt if they weren't plucked. And it may as well be done here as on the stock exchange, when you come to think of it."

"Like you best when you talk that way," said the young woman in the hammock, with open-eyed frankness. "Do you do it as other men do?—just to hear how it sounds?"

Brouillard, sitting on the top step of the porch, leaned his head against the porch post and laughed. "You know too much—a lot too much for a person of your tender years," he asserted. "Which means one more of the charming collection of contradictions which your father or mother or somebody had the temerity to label 'Amy,' sweetest and most adorable of diminutives."

"If you don't like my name—" she began, and then she went off at another tangent. "Please tell me why I am a 'collection of contradictions'?"

Brouillard's gaze went past the shapely little figure in the string hammock to lose itself in the far Tizian, yoni distances.

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"And the next minute?" she prompted.

"The next minute you are a witch, laughing at the man's little weakness, putting your finger on them as accurately as if you could read his soul, holding them up to your ridicule and—what's much worse—to his own. At such times your insight, or what ever you choose to call it, is enough to give a man a fit of seeing things."

Her laugh was like a schoolgirl's, light-hearted, ringing, deliciously unrestrained.

"What a picture!" she commented. "And then I can draw a better one of you, Monsieur Victor de Brouillard!"

"Do it," he dared.

"Very well then: Once upon a time—it was a good while ago, I'm afraid—you were a very upright young man. You would cheerfully have died for a principle in those days, and you would have allowed the enemy to cut you up into cunning little inch cubes before you would have admitted that any person was ever made to be plucked."

"He was smiling intently, with the black mustaches taking the sardonic upcurve."

"Then what happened?"

"One of two things, or maybe both of them. You were pushed out into the life race with some sort of a handicap. I don't know what it was—or is. Is the track?"

He nodded gravely. "It is all true enough. You haven't added anything more than a graceful little touch here and there. Who has been telling you all these things about me? Not Grizby?"

"No, not Murray Grizby. It was the man you think you know best in all the world—who is also probably the one you know the least—yourself."

"Good heavens! Am I really such a transparent egoist as all that?"

"All men are egoists," she answered calmly. "In some the ego is sound and clear-eyed and strong, in others it is weak—in the same way that passion is weak, it will sacrifice all it has or hopes to have in some sudden fury of self-assertion."

She sat up and put her hands to her hair, and he was free to look away, down upon the great ditch where the endless chain of concrete buckets added to the deep and widespread foundations of the dam. Across the river a group of hidden sawmills sang their raucous song. In the middle distance the camp town city spread its roughly indicated streets over the valley level, the tall chimney stacks of the new cement plant were rising, and from the quarries beyond the plant the dull thunder of the blasts drifted up.

This was not Brouillard's first visit to the camp on the Massingale claim by many. In the earliest stages of the valley civilization Smith, the Buckskin cattleman, had been Amy Massingale's escort to the reclamation camp—"Just a couple of lookers," in Smith's phrase—and the unconventional attitudes had done the rest. From that day forward the young woman had hospitably opened her door to Brouillard and his assistants, and any member of the corps from Washington the morose, who commonly came to the solemn silence on the porch step, to Griffith, who had lost his youthful heart to Miss Massingale on his first visit, was welcome.

"But now," she queried—"now, I suppose, you have become reconciled?"

"I am growing more philosophical, let us say. There are just about so many pigeons to be plucked, anyway; they'd molt if they weren't plucked. And it may as well be done here as on the stock exchange, when you come to think of it."

"Like you best when you talk that way," said the young woman in the hammock, with open-eyed frankness. "Do you do it as other men do?—just to hear how it sounds?"

Brouillard, sitting on the top step of the porch, leaned his head against the porch post and laughed. "You know too much—a lot too much for a person of your tender years," he asserted. "Which means one more of the charming collection of contradictions which your father or mother or somebody had the temerity to label 'Amy,' sweetest and most adorable of diminutives."

"If you don't like my name—" she began, and then she went off at another tangent. "Please tell me why I am a 'collection of contradictions'?"

Brouillard's gaze went past the shapely little figure in the string hammock to lose itself in the far Tizian, yoni distances.

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"And the next minute?" she prompted.

"The next minute you are a witch, laughing at the man's little weakness, putting your finger on them as accurately as if you could read his soul, holding them up to your ridicule and—what's much worse—to his own. At such times your insight, or what ever you choose to call it, is enough to give a man a fit of seeing things."

Her laugh was like a schoolgirl's, light-hearted, ringing, deliciously unrestrained.

"What a picture!" she commented. "And then I can draw a better one of you, Monsieur Victor de Brouillard!"

"Do it," he dared.

"Very well then: Once upon a time—it was a good while ago, I'm afraid—you were a very upright young man. You would cheerfully have died for a principle in those days, and you would have allowed the enemy to cut you up into cunning little inch cubes before you would have admitted that any person was ever made to be plucked."

"He was smiling intently, with the black mustaches taking the sardonic upcurve."

"Then what happened?"

"One of two things, or maybe both of them. You were pushed out into the life race with some sort of a handicap. I don't know what it was—or is. Is the track?"

He nodded gravely. "It is all true enough. You haven't added anything more than a graceful little touch here and there. Who has been telling you all these things about me? Not Grizby?"

"No, not Murray Grizby. It was the man you think you know best in all the world—who is also probably the one you know the least—yourself."

"Good heavens! Am I really such a transparent egoist as all that?"

"All men are egoists," she answered calmly. "In some the ego is sound and clear-eyed and strong, in others it is weak—in the same way that passion is weak, it will sacrifice all it has or hopes to have in some sudden fury of self-assertion."

She sat up and put her hands to her hair, and he was free to look away, down upon the great ditch where the endless chain of concrete buckets added to the deep and widespread foundations of the dam. Across the river a group of hidden sawmills sang their raucous song. In the middle distance the camp town city spread its roughly indicated streets over the valley level, the tall chimney stacks of the new cement plant were rising, and from the quarries beyond the plant the dull thunder of the blasts drifted up.

This was not Brouillard's first visit to the camp on the Massingale claim by many. In the earliest stages of the valley civilization Smith, the Buckskin cattleman, had been Amy Massingale's escort to the reclamation camp—"Just a couple of lookers," in Smith's phrase—and the unconventional attitudes had done the rest. From that day forward the young woman had hospitably opened her door to Brouillard and his assistants, and any member of the corps from Washington the morose, who commonly came to the solemn silence on the porch step, to Griffith, who had lost his youthful heart to Miss Massingale on his first visit, was welcome.

"But now," she queried—"now, I suppose, you have become reconciled?"

"I am growing more philosophical, let us say. There are just about so many pigeons to be plucked, anyway; they'd molt if they weren't plucked. And it may as well be done here as on the stock exchange, when you come to think of it."

"Like you best when you talk that way," said the young woman in the hammock, with open-eyed frankness. "Do you do it as other men do?—just to hear how it sounds?"

Brouillard, sitting on the top step of the porch, leaned his head against the porch post and laughed. "You know too much—a lot too much for a person of your tender years," he asserted. "Which means one more of the charming collection of contradictions which your father or mother or somebody had the temerity to label 'Amy,' sweetest and most adorable of diminutives."

"If you don't like my name—" she began, and then she went off at another tangent. "Please tell me why I am a 'collection of contradictions'?"

Brouillard's gaze went past the shapely little figure in the string hammock to lose itself in the far Tizian, yoni distances.

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

"Oh, I can catalogue them if you push me to it. One minute you are the Madonna lady that I can't recall, calm, respectful, truthful, and all that, you know—so truthful that those child-like eyes of yours would make a stultifying imbecile of the man who should, come to you with a lie in his mouth."

"You are a bundle of surprises," he said, letting the musing thought slip into speech. "What can you possibly know about my thoughts?"

She made a funny little grimace at him. "It was 'contradictions' a moment ago and now it is 'surprises.' Which reminds me, you haven't told me why I am a 'collection'."

United Effort Against Disease Now Being Made

THE GREAT SPIEGEL WORKING WITH ALL HIS KNOWLEDGE AND FORCE TO ROB HUMANITY OF THE TERRORS THAT EXIST TODAY.

Shows Contentment for Money by Throwing it away Upon the Public Streets of Connellsville.

Remarkable Demonstration Performed Wednesday Night.

L. J. Hamilton, 106 Palaski Street, Cured of Rheumatism in Full View of Large Crowd.

Science and charity are waging an endless battle in an effort to prolong the life of man. Philanthropists have endowed institutions with millions for the study of special diseases; charitable individuals and organizations have erected hospitals and sanitariums for victims of consumption, the terrible white plague, from all of which posterity will no doubt reap great benefit, but the present generation can expect but little aid from this source.

It has remained for the father of the Great Spiegel and Dr. Jones, life-long students of human life and their remedies, to devote themselves to the discovery of a remedy for the ordinary ills of today. In this particular field of endeavor, Dr. M. Spiegel and Dr. Jones have met with marked success and fifteen years ago, Dr. Spiegel's son, who has been in Connellsville one week, started to travel from place to place telling his suffering fellow beings what Dr. Jones' Sangvin and Dr. Jones' Liniment would do for people who were suffering from rheumatism, stomach, kidney, bladder troubles and kidney diseases that are so common and yet so fatal to the human being. In his travels the Great Spiegel has met with marked success, and has earned the gratitude of thousands of men, women and children who have been restored to health through following his advice and giving Dr. Jones' Sangvin a trial when they were given up as hopeless by the physicians who were treating them.

"It is a real pleasure for me to recommend Dr. Jones' Sangvin," says Willett Madison, 28 West 12th street, Parkersburg, W. Va. "I bought a bottle for my boy, who was passing blood through his urine, scaring us almost to death. The boy worked hard at the brick yards and his system became entirely deranged, his bowels refused to move, his appetite gone, felt tired and worn out mornings after his night's sleep, depressed in spirit, had coated tongue and his heart bothered him. He took only one bottle, his urine cleared up to natural color and it was remarkable the change it made in my boy. It just made a new man out of him, built up his appetite, nerves and sleep and, and he is now back on his job. I am buying another bottle for my wife, who suffers with stomach trouble and I will be thankful if it does the same for her as it did for my boy."

The Great Spiegel has opened and equipped an elaborate office at the Hotel Coudrey where he has engaged a suite of rooms. He has made, his employment some of the most noted and reputable physicians registered and graduates of some of the best colleges in the United States. His office was crowded all day yesterday by those seeking his advice. If you have any disease you are unfamiliar with, since the advice and consultation is free, this opportunity is exceedingly rare, since from all press reports in Ohio and West Virginia this gentleman bears indisputable reputation as a Health Teacher and Diagnostician.

Those who attended the show Wednesday night saw a feat that in years to come they will not forget. Fully five thousand saw Mr. Hamilton, who claimed he was working as a hold carrier, cured in five minutes by the Great Spiegel's famous Dr. Jones' Liniment, formerly Beaver oil.

Great crowds have been pouring upon the Carnival Grounds on the West Side, and the remarks heard daily that Connellsville never had a show here that has entertained them as The Great Spiegel Show is producing. Many a paid show is not up to its standard. That accounts for the large crowds that have been congregating nightly. Follow the band and be assured. Starting at 7.45 every night, West Side Carnival Grounds.

YOUGH TRUST COMPANY,
CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Capital.....	$ 200,000.00
Surplus and Profits.....	16,000.00
Resources.....	1,100,000.00

FOUR PER CENT. PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS.

Representative Citizens

People who have formed the habit of saving are thrifty, progressive and prosperous—they are the representative citizens.

Lay a firm foundation—start an account with us.

4% Interest Paid On Savings Accounts.

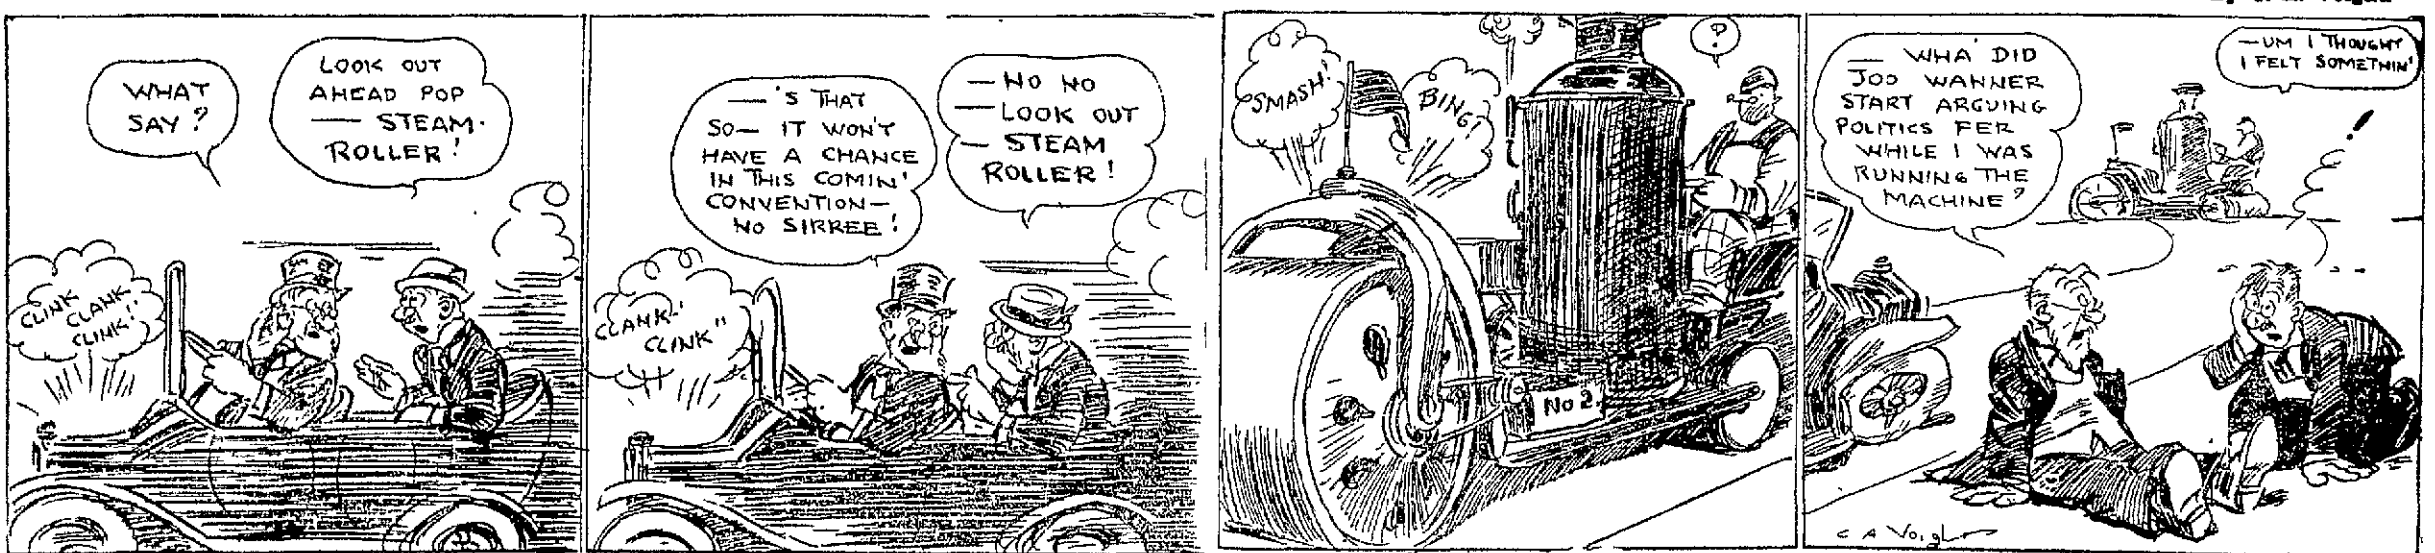

UNION NATIONAL BANK,
CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

MONEY TO LOAN

Honest people who are in need of cash can secure a loan through us. If you have steady work you can repay in easy payments. If we can be of service to you call and we will explain our plans to you thoroughly. All our dealings are strictly private. Loans from $10 to $100. Salary loans also made to single railroad men.

FAYETTE BROKERAGE COMPANY
207 Title & Trust Building, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

PETEY DINK—There Are Steam Rollers and Steam Rollers.

By C. A. Voight.

CHARLEY ADAMS GIVEN NICKNAME
BY PRETTY GIRL

She Called Him "Babe" and the Moniker Just Stuck.

ALWAYS WON WITH BRASS BAND

Had the Edge on Fromme, and a Great Contest Results When Two Bands
Got to Work and Fromme Holds the Mound for the Giants; Inside Dope.

By James Depp.
Charles (Babe) Adams, hero of 1907, has been one of the best pitchers in the National League since he made a bad year in 1908. Why do they call him Babe? Best to take the name. I wouldn't tell her.

"I was at a house party in Denver," said Babe, "and a very pretty girl, when introduced, asked me my military name. I wouldn't tell her."
"Oh, you're a big baby, and I'm going to call you Babe," she replied, in a tone of rebuke.

The name stuck to Adams throughout his career, and it was a byword in 1909 when the great young pitcher, a novice, bumbled the Detroit Tigers in three of the four games won. Maddox pitched the other victory on a rainy and chilly day, and
won. Maddox pitched the other victory
on a rainy and chilly day, and
won. Maddox pitched the other victory
on a rainy and chilly day, and won.

Adams has it on several clubs. He was a master against the Giants, but had a particular jinx against the Cincinnati club. Fromme never could beat Adams, though he beat all others, and Babe would always win with a brass band in the park.

On Sunday, May 13, 1913, Fromme held the Pirates to two hits. Adams allowed one hit. In the first inning, with Kelly on first by a walk, Adams hit one off Fromme between fields and won his game with one run.

One day in 1913 Clarke had scheduled McQuillen to pitch. Two brass bands were playing in the park, and Fromme went out to warm up. The writer went to the plate bench and said:

"Fred, you're not going to pines up this double header, are you?"
When he saw Fromme warming up and heard the band playing he quickly sent Adams out to warm up. Grand-land Rice heard of the double header in the first inning and his great story about it will long be remembered.

Clarke, nominally not a hard hitter, benefited through the double header in the first inning when he drove one into the upper tier of the stadium, longer than any made by Frank Baker in the world's series. Three runs came in. In the third with two on scouts again tore one loose for the stadium high up among the seats in the upper tier.

Fromme was taken out, and the band ceased playing. But with a sixrun lead all Pirate bands thought the game was won. In one inning the Giants came within one of tying the score. But after a nip-and-tuck battle Adams finally won his game, 9 to 8.

The wonderful cure exercised over Adams the night before the deciding game of the world's series with Pittsburg and Detroit led at three runs for Babe. It was cold and raw and Adams was subject to colds.

Clarke and Wagner took him to a bathhouse and he received a Turkish bath, limited so as not to weaken him.
Babe was given a five-minute sweat in the bathroom to make his muscles pliable, and with an alcohol rub on he was put to bed in a nice and comfortably warm room at 8:30. Those precautions won for Clarke. Adams in two sweaters beat the Tigers in the final, 5 to 0.

LESSONS OF AUTOS

Estopped From Providing Lease as Against Claims of a Third Party.
Judge Doty of Westmoreland county has rendered a decision in an automobile case to the effect that the taking of a license by the lessee of an automobile estops the lessor from proving the existence of the lease, as against a third party, who establishes his claim against lessee.

A man named Ferry of Latrobe traded an old car for a new Ford, which was given on a lease to secure a payment still due on the car. Subsequently the Latrobe Garage Company unable to collect a bill against Ferry, took out an execution on the Ford, holding Ferry as the owner.
The lessors of the Ford to Ferry came into court on an Interpleader and secured possession of the car.
When the case came into court Judge
Doty ruled that the lessors, having allowed Ferry to take out a license for the car, of which he had declared in his application to be the owner, were estopped from proving the bailment as against the garage company, in whose favor judgment was then entered.

If sustained this decision may result in a complete change in the system of leasing motor cars as now practiced.

New Enterprise at West Newton.
The Peanny Preserve & Pickling
Company has been organized at West
Newton by John G. Goehring, W. A.
Landsparner and John W. Donaldson, of that place, with a capital of $50, 000 to manufacture all kinds of pickled goods, fruits, butters and preserves.

Read The Daily Courier.

SOISSON THEATRE
CHILDREN "THE HOUSE OF LILIES" ADULTS
5 TO-DAY 10

ALICE BRADY IN THE POWERFUL FIVE REEL DRAMA

"THE WOMAN IN 47"

DOROTHY PHILLIPS AND BEN WILSON IN THE 2 REEL DRAMA

"A Wife at Bay"

MYRTLE GONZALEZ IN THE LENTILE COMEDY DRAMA

"Grouches and Smiles"

A POWERS DRAMA FOR THE CHILDREN

"A Toyland Robbery"

—MONDAY—

RENE KELLY IN THE FIVE REEL COMEDY DRAMA

"ALL FOR A GIRL"

NO. 007033 WINS THE DISHES AT THE SOISSON TODAY.

GLOBE THEATRE
TODAY

MARGUERITE CLAYTON AND RICHARD TRAVERS IN

"THE UNKNOWN"

S. & A. DRAMA IN 3 ACTS.

"HAM AND BUD IN

"HAM AND THE HERMIT'S DAUGHTER"

HAM COMEDY.

ROBERT HARRON AND MAE MARSH IN

"HIS MOTHER'S SOX"

DRAMA.

"TRIPLE LOVE DISASTER"

—MONDAY—

METRO PICTURES PRESENT HAROLD LOCKWOOD AND

MAY ALLISON IN

"THE COKE BACK"

A STORY OF THE SNOW CAPPED MOUNTAINS.—MERTO PICTURE

IN FIVE ACTS.

Baseball at a GlanceNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.

Pittsburg 5; Brooklyn 2.

Cincinnati 6; New York 4.

Chicago 2; Boston 1.

St. Louis 3; Philadelphia 2.

*13 innings.

Standing of the Clubs.

Brooklyn . . . 22 15 .593

New York . . . 21 16 .569

Philadelphia . . . 21 18 .539

Cincinnati . . . 21 23 .477

Boston . . . 18 29 .374

Chicago . . . 20 23 .465

Pittsburg . . . 19 22 .463

St. Louis . . . 19 21 .472

Today's Schedule.

Pittsburg at Brooklyn.

Cincinnati at New York.

St. Louis at Philadelphia.

Chicago at Boston.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.

St. Louis 2; Cleveland 1.

Standing of the Clubs.

Washington . . . 24 16 .600

Cleveland . . . 25 17 .595

New York . . . 22 16 .579

Boston . . . 22 18 .559

Chicago . . . 18 21 .462

Detroit . . . 18 23 .439

St. Louis . . . 16 25 .385

Philadelphia . . . 15 24 .385

Today's Schedule.

Boston at Cleveland.

Washington at Detroit.

New York at Chicago.

Philadelphia at St. Louis.

B. & O. GAMES TODAY.

Two Here and One Will Be Played at Rockwood.

The second games of teams in the Baltimore & Ohio baseball league will play this afternoon. The Freight

Office team will play the Shops at South Connelville this afternoon and the Connelville Yards will go to Rockwood where they will meet that team. Somerset will play the Superintendent's Office at Fayette Field.

The managers expect their men to make a much better showing than they

Dort $665

F. O. B. Flint, Mich.

Complete Westinghouse Electric

Starting and Lighting.

For demonstration or further particulars, call Tri-State Phone

405-W. Pay us you ride.

Columbia Garage

WEST SIDE, CONNELLSVILLE.

T. F. MEANS, Proprietor.

WEST PENN STOCK

It is Now Being Offered at an Attractive Figure.

Glover & MacGregor, 345 Fourth avenue, and George G. Applegate, Commonwealth Building, both of

Pittsburg, are offering 7% cumulative preferred stock of the West Penn

Power Company. This stock is being offered at $103.70 and accrued dividends.

The West Penn Power Company was organized under the laws of Pennsylvania, March 1st, 1916, for the purpose of consolidating under a single fee ownership the principal electric light and power properties owned by the West Penn Traction

Company, and also a general electric lighting and power business in the territory surrounding Pittsburg. The territory served comprises one of the very best power situations in the United States. The opportunities of the company for increasing earnings are exceptional. At present the value of the property is largely in excess of the outstanding bonds and preferred stock. The proceeds of the stock induced will be used for additions, improvements, and extensions to the company's property. Descriptive circulars can be had on request.

CONFLUENCE.

CONFLUENCE, June 3.—Miss Florence Cummings of Uniontown, is calling on relatives here.

Mrs. Charles Robinson and daughter,

Helen of Ursina, were callers in town yesterday.

Mrs. C. W. Hall entertained the L.

O. L. Class on Thursday evening.

Mrs. William Kirtz of Cumberland,

Md., has returned home, after visiting relatives here for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Brougher of the

It Has Taken Only Two Days to Prove That Everybody Is Going to Like Our New Policy*Gold Bond Trading Stamps

It has taken just two days to prove that we "hit the nail on the head" by adopting Gold Bond Trading Stamps. They are just what people want and have been wanting for a long time. All old customers and hundreds of new ones are quickly realizing the advantages of this Profit-Sharing Sales Policy. A book filled with Gold Bond Stamps, representing purchases of $100, is worth $4.00 in merchandise selected from any department in this great store except groceries, or, if you prefer, we will will pay you $3 in good United States money.

20 Gold Bond Trading Stamps FREE to Start Your Collection

—Come to this store today and start filling your Stamp Book with 20 Gold Bond Trading Stamps Free. You are drawing 4% in merchandise (savings bank interest) on the money you spend when you get Gold Bond Trading Stamps.

—To the sterling qualities, and surpassing values you receive at this foremost store is now added the big incentive of Gold Bond Trading Stamps. Remember—A book filled with these stamps is redeemable for $4.00 worth of merchandise of your own choosing, except groceries, or $3.00 in cash.

—Banks pay interest on the money you save. Gold Bond Trading Stamps pay you 4 per cent in merchandise on the money you spend. So saving Gold Bond Stamps will be a paying proposition.

—A store to be worthy of your confidence must be a helpful store. Our new Profit Sharing Policy is a most convincing demonstration of helpfulness, and one which thrifty people will be quick to appreciate. We expect Gold Bond Stamps to be received with instantaneous and widespread enthusiasm.

Every Home Should Have at Least One Gold Bond Stamp BookThese are Days of Great Activity at The Wright-Metzler Store

—All day Saturday and Saturday night, and all day Monday people will be coming in to supply their summer needs. Other people, especially from outside the city, will make one of these days the occasion of getting their first 20 Gold Bond Trading Stamps free to start their books. These will be busy days—true enough—but customers will find this store splendidly prepared to give the best of service. If you haven't brought in your Stamp Book yet, do so, and begin your collection at the earliest moment.

Busily Supplying the Many Summer Needs of Women

—Very complete and attractive displays of Women's and Children's Suits, Dresses and Skirts, Millinery, Pumps and Shoes, White and Colored Wash Materials, Ribbons, Neckwear, Toilet Goods, Gloves, Hosiery, Waists, and everything needed to complete the mid-Summer wardrobe.

—For the home, there are Rugs, Carpets, Linoleums, and Matting; Curtains, Window Shades, Curtain Rods, Carpet Sweepers, Porch Rugs and Porch Shades.

—The new Gold Bond Trading Stamps mean an actual saving of 4 per cent from our already fair low prices. Best and largest assortments; trustworthy quality; fair low prices and now—Gold Bond Trading Stamps are powerful arguments in favor of buying at this store.

Men Also Can Buy Here to Their Very Best Advantage

—Our big departments devoted to the Summer needs of Men were never better able to meet all demands which may be made upon them.

—Light Weight Summer Suits, tailored by such famous makers as Hirsch-Wickwire, Michaels-Stora and Society Brand; new shapes in Straw and Felt Hats; Dress Pants and Work Pants; everything to clothe the Boy.

—Men's and Boys' Summer Shoes and Oxfords, for dress or work, in patent black kid and tan. Men's and Boys' Shirts, Collars, Ties, Socks, Belts, Underwear, Handkerchiefs, and Jewelry.

—The 4 per cent saving represented by Gold Bond Trading Stamps cannot fail to appeal to the business sense of every man.

This Store Guarantees the Redemption of Every Gold Bond Stamp IssuedWright-Metzler Co.*Grand Festival and Carnival*Connellsville June 5th*One Big Week*12—BIG SHOWS—12 Sensational Free Acts*U. S. MILITARY BAND*FUN FOR ALL*FAYETTE FIELD*Every Body Welcome*The Mighty Doris Shows*SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, June 3.—The Modern Woodmen of America will hold a memorial service for their deceased members here tomorrow. They will meet at the L. O. O. T. Hall at 2 P. M.

Mrs. J. B. Bradway after visiting her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Huba, returned to her home in Pittsburg Thursday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Watson will take place tomorrow afternoon at 1 P. M.

Read The Daily Courier.

THE BOND CLUB.

Places Good Investment Bonds With-
In the Reach of All.

Time was when sound investment bonds could only be bought by those who had $1,000 or more to invest. Now by simply joining the First National Bank's Bond club you can buy choice bonds and pay for them in installments. Call at the bank for full information or write for folder.—Adv.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, June 3.—The Modern Woodmen of America will hold a memorial service for their deceased members here tomorrow. They will meet at the L. O. O. T. Hall at 2 P. M.

Mrs. J. B. Bradway after visiting her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Huba, returned to her home in Pittsburg Thursday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Watson will take place tomorrow afternoon at 1 P. M.

Read The Daily Courier.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, June 3.—The Modern Woodmen of America will hold a memorial service for their deceased members here tomorrow. They will meet at the L. O. O. T. Hall at 2 P. M.